LAW TAKES LIFE OF THE ASSASSIN

Leon Czolgosz Dies in Electric Chair in Auburn Prison for Murder of President McKinley.

GLORIED TO THE LAST IN HIS CRIME

Firmly He Approached His Doom and Died Without Repentance---Autopsy Shows That the Brain of the Assassin Was Normal---Family Hears News in Cleveland.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 29.—At 7:12½ o'clock this morning Leon Czolgosz, murderer of President William McKinley, paid the extreme penalty exacted by the law for his crime. He was shocked to death by 1,700 volts of electricity. He went to the chair in exactly the same manner as have the majority of murderers in this state, showing no particular sign of fear, but, in fact, doing what few of them have done—talking to the witnesses while he was being strapped in the chair.

"I killed the president because he was an enemy of the good people—of the good working people. I am not sorry for my crime."

These were his words as the guards hurried him into the chair.

A moment later, mumbling through the half adjusted face straps, he said:

"I am awfully sorry I could not see my father."

SLEPT SOUNDLY.

Czolgosz retired last night at 10 o'clock and slept so soundly that when Warden Meade went to the cell shortly before 5 o'clock this morning the guard inside had to shake

LEON CZOLGOSZ.

Czolgosz to awaken him. He sat up on the edge of his cot and made no reply to the warden's greeting of "good morning."

The official took from his pocket the death warrant and read it slowly and distinctly to the assassin, who hardly raised his eyes during the ceremony.

Just as the warden stepped away from the cell door Czolgosz called to him and said:

"I would like to talk with the superintendent."

The warden responded:

"He will be down presently."

Then the condemned man rolled over on his cot, apparently anxious to sleep again.

At 5 o'clock, however, the guard brought to him a pair of dark trousers, with the left leg slit so as to allow the free application of the electrode, and a light gray outing shirt.

He was told to get up and put these on, which he did.

Contrary to the usual custom, he was given a new pair of shoes. When dressed he laid down on the cot again and in this attitude Superintendent Collins found him at 5:30 when he went to visit him.

WANTED AN AUDIENCE.

The superintendent stood in front of the steel bars and when the guard had called Czlogosz's attention, he said:

"I wish to make a statement before you kill me."

"What do you wish to say, Czolgosz?" asked the superintendent.

"I want to make it when there are a lot of people. I want them to hear me," said the prisoner.

"Well, you cannot," said the superintendent.

"Then I won't talk at all," said the prisoner, sullenly.

gathering in the offices of Warden dressed them, saying:

"You are here to witness the legal death of Leon F. Czolgosz. I desire that you keep your seats and preserve absolute silence in the death chamber, no matter what may transpire. There are plenty of guards and prison officials to preserve order and attend to the proper details."

The prison physician, Dr. Gerin, and Dr. Carlos F. McDonald, of New York, took a position to the left of the chair, Warden Meade stood directly in front and Electrician Davis retired to the little room containing the electric switchboard.

Thayer gave the signal and the current was turned through the electric lights, flooding the chamber with brilliant light and dramatically showing the power that was used to kill the prisoner.

IN THE DEATH CHAMBER.

Warden Meade gave the signal to have the prisoner brought in and at 7:10½ o'clock Chief Keeper Tupper swung open the big steel door leading to the condemned cells, and as the steel bars behind which Czlogosz had been kept were swung aside two guards marched the prisoner out into the corridor, two others following and the chief keeper walking in front.

The guards on either side of Czolgosz had hold of his arms as if either to support him or to keep him from making a demonstration. As he stepped over the threshold he stumbled, but they held him up and as they urged him forward toward the chair he stumbled again on the little rubber covered platform upon which the chair rests. His head was erect and with his gray flannel shirt turned back at the neck he looked quite boyish. He was intensely pale and as he tried to throw his head back and carry himself erect his chin quivered very perceptibly.

As he was being seated he looked about at the assembled witnesses with quite a steady stare and said: "I killed the president because he was an enemy of the good people—of the working people."

NOT SORRY FOR HIS CRIME.

His voice trembled slightly at first, but gained strength with each word, and he spoke perfect English. "I am not sorry for my crime," he said, just as the guard pushed his head back on the rubber head rest and drew the straps across his forehead and chin. As the pressure on the straps tightened and bound the jaws tightly, he mumbled: "I am awfully sorry I could not see my father."

It was just exactly 7:11 o'clock when he crossed the threshold, but a minute had elapsed and he had just finished the last statement when the strapping was completed and the guards stepped back.

Warden Meade raised his hand and at 7:12:30 Electrician Davis turned the switch that threw 1,700 volts of electricity into the living body.

THE BODY WRITHES.

The rush of the current threw the body back so that the straps cracked perceptibly. The hands clenched suddenly and the whole attitude was one of extreme tenseness. For forty-five seconds the full current was kept on and then slowly the electrician threw the switch back, reducing the current volt by volt until it was cut off entirely. Then just as it had reached that point he threw the lever back again for two or three seconds. The body, which had collapsed as the current reduced, stiffened up again against the straps. When it was turned off again Dr. MacDonald stepped to the chair and put his hand over the heart. He said he felt no pulsation, but suggested that the current be turned on for a few seconds again. Once more the body became rigid. At 7:15 the current was turned off for good.

THE SCENE WAS BRIEF.

From the time Czolgosz had left his cell until the full penalty was paid less than four minutes had elapsed. The physicians present used the stethoscope and other tests to determine if any life remained, and at 7:15 o'clock the warden, raising his hand, announced: "Gentlemen, the prisoner is dead."

The witnesses filed from the chamber, many of them visibly affected, and the body was taken from the chair and laid on the operating table.

When the body of Czolgosz had been removed from the room where he was killed to the autopsy table, Auburn prison returned to the routine of its ordinary life. The prisoners, who had been kept locked in their cells, were released at 7:45 o'clock and prison work was resumed at once.

There was no excitement among the convicts. Scarcely a hundred people had gathered outside the prison gate to watch the witnesses enter and wait until they reappeared. The witnesses dispersed quickly, some of them leaving for their homes as early as 9 o'clock.

Prison Superintendent Collins Meade, and at 7:08 the procession passed to the death chamber, going through the long south corridor.

In the chamber Electrician Davis and Former Warden Thayer, of Dannemora, had arranged the chair test.

SPEAKS TO WITNESSES.

The witnesses were ordered seated and then Warden Meade briefly addressed them, saying:

"You are here to witness the legal death of Leon F. Czolgosz. I desire that you keep your seats and preserve absolute silence in the death chamber, no matter what may transpire. There are plenty of guards and prison officials to preserve order and attend to the proper details."

COOL UNDER FIRE

SCHLEY STILL ON THE STAND

CROSS-EXAMINATION HAS A WIDE RANGE.

HE JUSTIFIES HIS ACTIONS

GIVES REASONS FOR MAKING WESTWARD MOVEMENT.

Washington, Oct. 29.— Judge Advocate Lemly lost no time in beginning his interrogations of Admiral Schley after the Schley court of inquiry convened at 11 o'clock today. When the court adjourned yesterday he was still questioning with reference to the cruise from Cienfuegos to Santiago, and he resumed today where he had left off yesterday, asking a number of questions relating to the condition of the weather on May 25 and 26, the dates of the voyage.

He also reverted to the detaching of the Eagle from the flying squadron and brought the witness to the consideration of several other minor details of that movement before coming to the meeting with the scout boats twenty-five miles south of Santiago on the evening of May 26, when the retrograde movement toward Key West in search of coal was begun.

The intention was to go into this retrograde movement later in the day and also to consider in minute detail the reconnoisance of May 31, the coaling question and the famous loop of the Brooklyn on July 3.

Captain Lemly was hopeful of completing his questioning today, but admitted that the outlook in that direction was not altogether promising. As on yesterday, Admiral Schley was calm in his demeanor and deliberate in his answers, apparently weighing all questions carefully before replying. On cross-examination he does not raise his voice as high as he did in his original statement, and as a consequence what he says is not heard throughout the court room. Before resuming the cross-examination of Admiral Schley Judge Advocate Lemly announced that with the assent of counsel for the other side the signal books of the New York for May 18 and 19 and July 2 and 3, and the Brooklyn's for May 18 to June 2, inclusive, and July 2 and 3, would be included in the record. He explained that May 18 and 19 were the day before and the day of which the New York left Key West. The first question the judge advocate asked was in connection with Admiral Schley's examination in chief regarding the meeting with the Eagle after the flying squadron left Key West.

CAUSED A STIR.

Judge Advocate Lemly's questions followed no regular sequence in relation to events as they transpired from day to day, but jumped from point to point and then back again in seeming confusion. In course of the examination he asked Admiral Schley this question:

"Had Cervera's fleet appeared during the nights you were at Cienfuegos, either coming out or coming in from seaward, what, under your instructions, would your fleet have done?"

"Knocked them out," replied Admiral Schley, the response causing a stir in the court room.

Captain Lemly devoted much attention to the question of coaling and referred frequently to log and signal books.

THE WESTWARD MOVEMENT.

Captain Lemly then prosecuted his cross-questioning along lines relating to the retrograde movement, in course of which he asked this question:

"In yur testimony, you say that you did not disobey orders when you started westward because you returned to your station without further direction. Am I right?"

"Yes."

"Upon receipt of the instructions, did you not, nevertheless, leave your station?"

"Yes, I did for these reasons: First, because Captain Sigsbee, a scout placed in front of Santiago harbor, informed me that he did not believe the Spanish fleet was there. Second, because Nunez, the pilot, told me he did not believe the enemy's fleet could enter the harbor. Third, the order No. 7, with the accompanying memorandum in which Admiral Sampson minimized the importance of this squadron being there and the fact that the department's telegram, which reached me on May 27, was so ambiguous in its terms. It authorized me to coal at Gonavies, Hayti, or at Cape Cruz. Gonavies being the eastward, and knowing that Admiral Sampson was at Key Francis, in the Bahama channel, to the north, it occurred to me that if the Spanish squadron were extant that the proper stragetical move was to go to the westward and not to the eastward. I was authorized in the same telegram to move as far west as Cape Cruz, provided coaling had been found possible there.

THE INFLUENCING MOTIVES.

"I did not go to Cape Cruz within eighty miles, I think. Now these were the influencing and the operating motives: I felt that the move westward was stragetically the proper one, with a determination to coal as quickly as possible, and that the efficiency of my squadron as a unit was only equal to the efficiency of the coal supply of the slowest one that composed it. Those are the motives which caused that movement. The ambiguity of the telegram from the department, I think, is manifest almost at once, because it states first, specifically, that all the department's information indicated so and so—that is, the Spanish fleet was still at Santiago. It pointed out a place which at that time was not accessible, and lastly, it looked to me to determine and report whether the enemy was in port or not. Those were the influencing motives."

Captain Lemly: "And you were satisfied with those, without taking any steps whatever to ascertain if this order of these reports were correct?"

"I ascertained for myself through the medium that the department had placed there to keep me informed. Those scouts represented very largely the cavalry of the army and if they were unreliable they should not have been placed there. I must have relied upon what they said."

TROOPS ARE NOT NEEDED

LOUISIANA RACE RIOT IS BELIEVED AT AN END.

Order to Militia to Go to Ball Town is Countermanded—Fourteen Reported Dead.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 29.—It is now believed that the riot between negroes and whites at Ball Town is ended, as a telegram was received from Governor Heard at 8:30 this morning countermanding the instructions to General Glenn to send troops to Ball Town. A company of the Louisiana field artillery and a troop of cavalry had been held in readiness all night and were about to leave for the scene of trouble when the governor's telegram came indicating that there is no necessity for the presence of the militia.

The first news of the race riot was brought here yesterday by Cornelius Mixon, who, with his mother, left from near Franklington in the morning. He stated that white men rode into Franklington at 2 o'clock yesterday morning asking for help, saying that the negroes were up in arms, threatening to exterminate the whites. The scene of the trouble is at or near Ball Town, where a negro was burned last week for criminally assaulting a white woman. This was not the cause, however, of the murders Sunday, in which three white men and eleven negroes were killed and several wounded. Mr. Mixon saw and talked with many men from the scene, and they said more and worse trouble was expected, as armed men were flocking to the scene, and it was reported the blacks were equally active in preparing for a battle.

STRUCK BY A STREET CAR.

Estella Bakoffen, a little girl living on Grand street, was struck by Hanna street car No. 111 Monday afternoon while attempting to cross Wallace street, near Calhoun. The little girl was knocked down, and as she expressed it, pretty badly "bumped," but she was not seriously injured. After the accident she managed to limp home unassisted and no blame is attached to the motorman.

THE STATE'S STAR WITNESS CALLED

Marie Sampleson Placed on Stand in the Dunn Murder Trial This Afternoon.

GIRL'S TESTIMONY IS STRIKING

Marie Sampleson, who has been popularly regarded at least as the state's star witness in the Dunn murder trial, was placed on the stand this afternoon and began the recital of testimony that in many respects is the most interesting yet submitted to the jury.

Del Reed, who with Miss Sampleson has been held in jail in default of bond for their appearance at this trial since July 9 last, was brought into court when Miss Sampleson made her appearance. He will doubtless follow her on the witness stand.

Miss Sampleson was domestic in Dunn's household at the time Alice Cothrell disappeared.

Today is the seventh day of the Dunn case, and testimony during the morning hours came in somewhat slowly. There were occasional waits for the appearance of witnesses and for the consultation of attorneys, but Judge O'Rourke has from the first shown an evident desire to expedite the case as rapidly as is consistent with absolute fairness, and does not tolerate unnecessary delays.

Perhaps the most important testimony of the morning was that given by Dr. Albert H. MacBeth, city health commissioner, who was present at the second post mortem examination upon the remains of little Alice Cothrell, and who subsequently made a number of microscopic examinations in connection with the case.

Several witnesses, among them Dr. W. W. Barnett, the coroner, were recalled by the state today, and answered inquiries in addition to those brought out at previous examinations. The state may not be able to close its side of the testimony today, but the end is not far off.

Attorney Colerick stated at noon that he believed about two days would be required to submit the evidence upon the part of the defense. It is expected that during this time Mr. Dunn will take the witness stand in his own behalf.

OPENING OF COURT.

Early arrivals had completely filled the spectators' section of the court room even before court opened this morning, and previous to the resumption of the Dunn case a number of routine matters of court business received attention. It was 9:03 when the jurors filed into their seats. There was some delay waiting the arrival of attorneys before the first witness of the day was called, and during this time Dunn sat in conversation, first with Mr. Morris and later with Detective Mahan.

MR. RYAN RECALLED.

Deputy Sheriff John Ryan was recalled to the witness stand, and on the re-examination by Judge Hench witness said he, in company with Edward Cothrell, had started from rear of Dunn's premises, went north through alley, turned west and reached the road leading from Wallen, passed along over the route presumably taken by Dunn on day he left Cothrell and Reed on the log wagons. Witness said fifty-one minutes were required to walk from Wallen to the point where Dunn left the wagons to go to Wallen about noon, July 2.

Counsel for defense objected to the inquiries and answers, citing as reasons that the testimony was incompetent and irrelevant, failing to show that the route was the same as that taken by Dunn, and that defendant was not present. Overruled.

MRS. COTHRELL RECALLED.

When witness took the stand defense objected to the recalling of Mrs. Cothrell on the ground that objection was made on first day to recalling witnesses, and that leaving important after-testimony till the last was unfair to defendant. The court overruled the objection, and defense filed exception.

When Judge Hench asked witness if she had called at Dunn's house Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, while Dunn was eating dinner, witness said she went there at 2 o'clock, but did not see Dunn.

Witness said Dunn had not told her to search every place in Wallen, as a previous witness had said Dunn told him. Witness had never told Dunn she had whipped her daughter Alice.

During the entire course of Mrs. Cothrell's examination there was almost invariable objection upon the part of the defense.

Witness testified that she had never between July 2 and time daughter was found in cistern stated to Dunn that she wished her daughter was dead; never stated so to him prior to July 2; never made such a statement to any person in Dunn's presence at any time.

Never stated to Dunn that when Alice came back she would give her a good thrashing; nor did he say that was the trouble; had thrashed her too much already.

MR. COTHRELL RECALLED.

Examined by Judge Hench, witness said he did not go to defendant's house July 2, while defendant was eating dinner.

Questioned by Mr. Colerick, Mr. Cothrell detailed his whereabouts at various times during the day of July 2.

The recalling of the Cothrells by the state was evidently for the purpose of refuting the alleged statement of Dunn, sworn to by Mr. Bleke, to the effect that Dunn told him the Cothrells had come to his house while he was eating dinner July 2 to inquire for Alice.

Lieut. J. B. Fonner was the next witness; live in Fort Wayne; stenographer; was at Wallen July 9, at house formerly occupied by Dunn; saw cistern there; it was in kitchen at the rear. Witness told of coverings over cistern. Witness assisted in taking measurements of openings; opening in floor was 16 by 22¼ inches; second opening was 13 by 22 inches; two openings were not directly in line; straight line dropped to get dimensions of hole in clear showed it 18½ inches long by 10 inches at one end and 12 inches at the other.

Cross-examined, witness said long way of upper opening was east and west; lower opening angled to the southwest to best of witness' recollection; lower opening projected in part beyond the floor line above it.

EXPERT TESTIMONY.

Dr. A. H. Macbeth, commissioner of health, was called to the witness stand; live on East Wayne street; am a practicing physician; engaged in practice since May, 1899. Was at Wallen when second post mortem examination was made of body of Alice Cothrell; went with Dr. Barnett; met Dr. Rosenthal and Dr. Greenawalt; first went to Dunn's residence and inspected premises; then went to the house where girl's body lay. They made a second post mortem of a number of the organs, but not of the entire body. I was present at the entire examination. Witness gave considerable testimony in answer to questions proposed by prosecution to show an assault or attempt to assault

UNCOMMON WISDOM

SOME FORT WAYNE PEOPLE PROFIT BY NEICHBOR'S EXPERIENCE.

It's a wise man who profits by the experience of his friends and neighbors. Here is a chance to do it, and every man, woman or child in Fort Wayne who knows the misery of a bad back, the nervousness and restlessness caused by kidney complaint or the annoyance of urinary disorders, will show uncommon wisdom to profit by this citizen's advice.

Mr. William Steller, of 221 West Superior street, says: "I was broken down in health for four years, and although my kidneys were only one of the things that helped to make me ill, they caused me enough suffering to make any man think that life was not worth living. The greatest pain I felt from them was in my head, and this, in addition to the backache, nearly drove me crazy. The kidney secretions were highly colored and other symptoms of disordered kidneys existed. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Meyer & Co.'s drug store, and they did me a world of good. They were the only remedy that relieved me and at the same time did not leave any harmful after-effect."

had been made. Dr. Greenawalt gave witness some blood and mucus for examination. Neck had appearance of being rather large at the base; thyroid glands, one slightly enlarged, but not to extent that would cause alarm; this is often seen. Organs were enlarged; saw Dr. Rosenthal remove hyoid bone; tissues were apparently anaemic—had lack of blood; corneas of hyoid bone were not alike; left cornea was bent toward the median line about half an inch, necessarily the result of pressure or force; might require considerable force, and pressure would have to be from both sides.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN CHOKED.

Would hardly call left cornea a fracture, although ligaments were broken, they would have to be broken to bend it that way; condition could have been brought about by compression with hands about neck; compression could not have existed long without causing death; pressure would necessarily have to be bilateral to produce those conditions.

On the cross-examination by Mr. Colerick witness said seeping did not come from the abrasions; seeping would stop very soon after death; would not expect an exudation more than four days after death. To create a fracture of left cornea of hyoid bone in a young child less effort would be required than in a middle-aged person. Ossification of hyoid bone is supposed to be complete at from 20 to 25 years of age. If force was applied to the neck by a hand pressure would have to be nearly equal on either side to produce fracture.

Witness said if he had a case in which strangulation was suspected, would first look for exterior indicatio nsupon neck. Echymosis of throat externally appears in cases of strangulation, usually soon after death; would remain to some extent until putrefaction set in. Impression of fingers and hand would not remain.

REFERRED TO AUTHORITIES.

Mr. Colerick referred to a large number of medical authorities in attempt to show that after death discoloration would remain; witness assented to this, but said finger prints would not remain. Dr. MacBeth was questioned as to scratches, abrasions, bruises, etc., on the body; discoloration of neck or face externally. None were observed by witness except those already mentioned by other physicians—bruises on arm and leg. Witness said conditions of throat after death and removal from water would not be abnormal save for anaemic conditions.

If a body were immersed in water very cold, remaining five days, water would have a tendency to soften the glands of the throat.

Mr. Colerick asked if it was not laid down by authorities that in cases of drowning where body went into water in cases of unconsciousness no froth or bloody mucous would be discharged after death, but where one went into water in life, probably rising and sinking again, is the condition in which a frothy, blubbery mucous, tinged with blood, would appear. Witness assented, and in response to Mr. Colerick's question said it might be regarded as a test of drowning—that in one case mucous would appear; in the other it was not likely to appear.

Witness said he had made a microscopic examination of matter taken from body of the girl and found nothing improper there.

MINUTE EXAMINATION.

On the re-direct examination, Dr. Macbeth said there were several indentations on the tongue made by impressions of the teeth. In case of death by drowning, one would expect to find water in the throat and trachea. When means outlined by Mr. Emerick were used to expel water from lungs and none were found, it would indicate that death was not caused by drowning.

Much of the examination of Dr. MacBeth, both on direct and cross-examination, was of the character that cannot properly be given in a newspaper.

DR. BARNETT RECALLED

Coroner Barnett was recalled to the witness stand, and Judge Hench's first question was in reference to the method of proceeduro in removing the clothing from the body of the dead girl.

Defense entered an objection on the ground that witness had once before covered these matters thoroughly. The objection was overruled by Judge O'Rourke, and the defense filed an exception.

Dr. Barnett then told how clothing was first laid back, and after the post mortem it was removed and placed in a paper sack; witness then took package to his office and placed it in his safe.

There was minute questioning regarding buttons, buttonholes and fastenings of the under garments. Witness said that at first observation neither center button nor left side of under garment was buttoned; left lapel lay down; right side was buttoned.

Louis Beitzell was the last witness called before the noon adjournment. Witness said he was twenty-six years old and had lived in Allen county all his life; was present at Wallen Friday of first week in July with Huguenard and others. Heard Dunn say he commenced searching for Alice Cothrell at 2 o'clock July 2, the day she was first missing. Witness heard that the girl was missing Wednesday morning.

On re-direct examination, witness stated that there was no likelihood of finding spermatozoa in this case; that he so informed Dr. Greenawalt; that it was too long after death.

CROWDED WITH LADIES.

More than fifty ladies from the audience did not leave the room during the noon hour, but remained in their seats in the expectation, no doubt, of seeing Marie Sampleson, who, it had been whispered, was to be placed upon the witness stand this afternoon. There are 108 seats in the audience section of the court room, and practically all of these were occupied by ladies when court opened. Behind the seats stood other ladies and many male spectators.

Marie Sampleson, with Mrs. Stout, and "Del" Reed in charge of Deputy Sheriff Huguenard, walked down from the jail together, and were kept for a short time in the witness room before they were called to testify.

Reed entered the room with Deputy Sheriff Huguenard, stood for a moment at the door, then taking a seat on the witness stand.

STATE'S STAR WITNESS.

After being sworn, witness said her name was Estella Marie Sampleson; 17 years old; born in New York, but could not give the name of the town; was going on 4 years old when she left New York for Chicago, going with parents. Father is living; mother died July 23, 1892; father is a stone mason in Chicago, don't know what part of the city. Two children left when mother died. Soon after mother's death witness went to Chicago Industrial home; remained there about six months; then went to Mr. Rivir's at Harvard, Ill.; sent me there from home; after a time there went back to the home at Woodstock, Ill. Three months later came to Mr. Knepper's in Aboit township, Allen county. They sent for me. Then went to Wm. Vought's in Aboit township; lived there two months. Then went to Eugene Eme's, in Aboit township; lived with him until last Christmas. Then went to Mr. Fleckenstein's at 4 Riverside avenue; there over a month; then went to Charles Dunn's. He lived on Riverside avenue then. It was Feb. 10 that I went there. Went with them to Wallen and remained with them. Am single; never married. Have known Dunn since I worked for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, Delph Reed and I composed the family. Mr. Dunn has one son; witness pointed him out in court room. Think he was there in June to visit. Did not see him there on week Alice Cothrell was missed.

Heard that Alice Cothrell was missing at 7 o'clock in the evening; Edna Cothrell gave me the information. Dunn was at home on that day and was at home night before. He and Mrs. Dunn were there morning of July 2. We all had breakfast. Remember Dunn leaving house that morning. Mr. Cothrell and Dell Reed were his teamsters. I saw them start away about 7 o'clock. I was in the woodshed; they went west. That morning Mrs. Cothrell and Edna came to get water; Mr. Dunn assisted them in getting water from cistern; they took the water home. Dunn had not yet gone away.

Walter Haire lives south of Dunn's; he has a daughter named Hettie; Mains' house is north. I went to Haire house about 1 o'clock in the afternoon to take some bread; I had borrowed some. Had been washing and baking bread that day. Stayed at Haire's but a few minutes and talked to Hettie. Spoke to her about getting water. Went back to Dunn's house and got a pail from the woodshed; Alice Cothrell was in the house when I went to Haire's the first time; she had come in about 1 o'clock. She had been in house but a few minutes till I left.

Took pail and went to Haire's after water; Clayte Haire gave me the water—got it at Huguenard's; we divided what was in his pail. Talked to Hettie Haire while standing on porch. Hettie took balance of water in house and I returned to Dunn's.

As I returned from Haire's the first time Alice Cothrell was leaning in the dining room window at Dunn's; when I got inside the dining room I met Alice and she went out ahead of me to woodshed. Cistern was open then.

ALICE LEFT THE HOUSE.

Alice went down the walk and out in alley. I saw her from the door. Pail that I got stood just inside the door. She went north as she passed into alley.

Washing then stood by the door inside house. I was absent just a few minutes after water; Mrs. Cothrell was there about 2 or 3 o'clock in the afternoon to get water. Mrs. Dunn and I had eaten dinner that day just before 1 o'clock. Dunn had not had his dinner before Mrs. Cothrell drew rainwater in the afternoon. I was at work at clothes when she came; I had drawn two pails for my bluing water.

HEARD A SCREAM.

As I passed from Haire's residence to Dunn's second time I heard someone scream twice; I was about half way between houses. Entered dining room door and met Mrs. Dunn, she had been in bedroom. She asked me if I was hurt; I told her no. Asked me if I heard any screams. I told her yes. I went to woodshed door and looked out to see if I could see anything. Screams seemed to have come from north.

Windows in Mrs. Dunn's room face north; in kitchen windows face west.

Did not see Alice Cothrell when I got back to house second time. When I went to north woodshed door did not see anybody; afterwards went to the door and looked north; saw Mr. Dunn looking out of horse barn door near sawmill. He stepped out of that door and entered the door to the right. First door faced sawmill.

I hung up my clothes. Saw Dunn

Mrs. H. S. Wagstaff, President Kansas City, Mo., Blue Ribbon Club, Tells How She was Cured of Severe Bearing-Down Pains, Backache, etc., by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—After suffering for months with a complication of female troubles, causing severe bearing-down pains and backache, feeling constantly fatigued and unable to stand up without great weariness, great relief came to me when a friend advised me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did. It was worth more to me than all other medicines I ever tried, which only seemed to poison my system, while your Compound healed me. I took your pills in connection, and they seemed to help cast the poison and waste matter out of the system. I used the Compound for six weeks and was then completely cured, and while this was eighteen months ago I have had no relapse, but have enjoyed the best of health ever since. I wish that every poor dragged-down, suffering woman might know that it would bring them health to consult you and use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I always do what I can to tell them of it." —MRS. H. S. WAGSTAFF, 1330 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

$5000 FORFEIT IF THE ABOVE LETTER IS NOT GENUINE.

THE HOSE ARE LIKE A GOOD PLAY. MOST PEOPLE WANT A BOX.

NEARLY EVERY DAY OPENS ON SOME NEW BARGAIN AT OUR STORE. SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY OF HOSE.

Good Morning Ladies!

We do not want to keep you from your work, but now that your husband has gone for the day and the children are in school, we want to talk just a moment about your husband's half hose. You bought his last ones, didn't you? You came down town just like any other woman would do—you went straight to a dry goods store, didn't you? Perhaps you never stopped to think that a store like ours, with an immense stock of Men's Furnishing Goods would have what you were after. Well, we have. We know your husband has not found any fault with those you have bought. But we want to make you solid with him on that question. We want him to think that you have forgotten more about men's half hose than he ever knew, so we are going to ask you to buy his next ones of us. We have just received 400 dozen men's half hose in black, tan, "white foot" and fancy. They are guaranteed absolutely stainless and we will give you two pair instead of one for 25c. You'll come and see them—won't you?

REUBEN S. PATTERSON.

HALF HOSE—HALF PRICE. ONE-HALF AND THEN THE OTHER HALF OF THE MEN SHOULD WEAR THEM.

MANAGER HEILBRONER HERE.

Among the distinguished passengers which the early eastbound Wabash train landed in this morning was Col. Louis Heilbroner. Louie says he don't know where or how he got his title, but since he has it he wouldn't sell it for less than a fortune. Mr. Heilbroner was the business manager of the St. Louis base ball club this season and represented the Robisons all the way through, as he has for several seasons, and says the season just closed was the most successful from a financial point of view his employers have ever had. He is home to visit father and sister, as well as his many friends, and does not know how long he will remain here. He has closed his St. Louis office for the season and may make Fort Wayne his headquarters all winter. He will be with the Robisons again next year.

A DAILY NUISANCE.

A Simple Remedy Which Will Interest Catarrh Sufferers.

In its earlier stages catarrh is more of a nuisance than a menace to the general health, but sooner or later, the disease extends to the throat, bronchial tubes and even to the stomach and intestines.

of mucous, stoppage of the nostrils, irritation in throat, causing coughing, sneezing, gagging and frequent clearings of the throat and head.

The usual treatment by local douches, snuffs, salves, etc., often gives temporary relief, but anything like a cure can only be obtained by a treatment which removes the catarrhal taint from the blood and the disappearance of the inflammation from the mucous surfaces.

A new remedy which meets these requirements and which so far has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh, is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

These tablets act upon the blood and mucous membranes only. They can hardly be called a secret patent medicine as they are composed of such valuable remedies as Sanguinaria, Hydrastin, Eucalyptol and similar cleansing antiseptics which cure by eliminating from the blood and mucous surfaces the catarrhal poison.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges taken internally, allowing them to dissolve slowly in the mouth, in this way they reach the throat, fauces and the entire ailmentary canal.

If desired, they may also be dissolved in water and used as a douche, in addition to the internal use, but it is not at all necessary to use a douche; a few of them dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. However, when there is much stoppage of the nose, a douche made from these tablets will give immediate relief, but the regular daily use internally of these tablets will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of the douche.

Dr. Bement states "that the internal treatment for catarrh is rapidly taking the place of the old plan of douching, and local application, and further says that probably the best and certainly the safest remedy at present on the market is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as no secret is made of their composition and all the really efficient remedies for catarrh are contained in this tablet."

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at fifty cents for full sized packages. Ask your druggist and if he is honest he will tell you there is no safer, more palatable, more efficient and convenient remedy on the market.

THE FINAL SCENE.

The curtain has been rung down on the final scene of our latest great national tragedy. Czolgosz, assassin of the president, has paid the penalty inexorable justice demanded. For the life he took his life has been taken. The death of the murderer but poorly balances the stupendous loss he inflicted upon the nation, and if that were the only light in which the crime and its punishment could be looked at there would be little satisfaction in the view.

It is in the stern but full requittal of justice that the public mind must find satisfaction. The assassin was not executed because his victim was president of the United States. Had he taken the life of the humblest citizen in the premeditated manner that he slew the president his fate in all human probability would have been the same. From the moment the law laid its hand on Czolgosz until the moment the law required his life in expiation of his crime Czolgosz was as any other felon might have been. The authority of the state protected him from the vengeance of an angered populace, gave him a decent, dignified and impartial trial, provided him with eminent counsel to safeguard the rights the law vouchsafes to every man accused of crime, secured his conviction by the fixed processes of justice common to every such case, and inflicted the penalty in manner and with circumstance precisely what they would have been had the assassin of the president been the slayer of a ruffian in a brawl.

In one respect the Czolgosz case has been most salutary. There was no opportunity permitted to make a hero of the wretch. The law took him and without denying him a single element of justice, kept him and disposed of him for what he was—a murderer. He was not hurried to conviction nor rushed to his doom. All that the law prescribed for every such case was fulfilled. It furnishes lesson in criminal procedure that must be salutary.

As to the assassin whom the law has slain, there is little to be said. His burial place should be unknown of mankind and his name forgotten. He died with lying bravado glorying in the foulness of his deed, unrepentant, unshrived and unwept. So long as his name shall be remembered of good men it will be as a curse. His crime recoils upon his hateful kind. Public sentiment will soon straightjacket their insane creed and its propagandists. The assassin raised his arm as he believed against the embodiment of all our law and by the law he has perished.

CHANCE FOR GOOD WORK.

The city council has before it an opportunity to render high service to the people of this city. The council meets tonight in committee of the whole to take up the Harrison street franchise matter. What will be done, if anything, cannot be forecasted. What ought to be done is more easy to state. If the interurban question is worked at along the line of the greatest public good and not along the line of advantage to any special interest the council can bring something like order of the chaotic interurban condition. The city needs the lines, the people want them and they are ready to come. That solution of the problem which best conserves the interests of the city, gives greatest encouragement to interurban enterprises and brings the lines into the city and down town with the least sacrifice of streets is the best solution. That sums up the problem which confronts the council. The council can solve it by considering the general question by itself.

The gentleman who informed the board of public works that he had faith in his ability to settle the interurban and other traction disputes should be welcomed to a trial of it. It is a vexed question with many sides to it, and the man who can settle it to the satisfaction of all interested parties, including the people, has it in his power to perform a monumental public service.

The execution of Czolgosz may do something to deter the propagation of anarchy, but other measures must complement the work of the executioner in Auburn prison.

Tonight will be "converts' night" at the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ, when all converts will be present for a special service.

FRANCHISE AT LOGANSPORT

WANTED BY M'KINLEY INTERURBAN SYNDICATE.

Attorney Doughman Perfecting Plans for the Extension of the Southwestern.

The Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company is evidently in deep earnest in its expressed intention of extending its lines from this city to Danville, Ill. The Logansport Reporter says:

"A. N. Dukes, of Peru, and Attorney N. D. Doughman, of Fort Wayne, representing the McKinley syndicate, were in the city Saturday evening for the purpose of consulting with local officials in regard to the granting of a franchise on Erie avenue and Fifth street for the interurban which the syndicate proposes to extend from Fort Wayne to Danville, Ill. Already part of the line is in operation and the McKinley syndicate is engaged in pushing the completion of the work. The representatives say that if given a franchise they will take care of any opposition Mr. Marott may put up. Mr. McKinley will visit the city this evening and it is understood that there will be no trouble in convincing the council that the syndicate means business and is not at all alarmed about the likelihood of finding the street car franchise a serious obstacle. If somebody will kindly step in and take a fight off the city's hands by voiding the street railway franchise little objection will be made. In any event, the anxiety of competing lines to secure an entrance here is a favorable indication that Logansport is soon to have trolley lines."

HIS WIFE FOLLOWED HIM.

On Sunday evening a well-known business man of South Whitley came to Fort Wayne, arriving on the 7:50 train over the Nickel Plate. On the same train this gentleman's wife was a passenger, but the aforesaid business man did not know that. When the train stopped the man left it and took a course due north, and shortly after landed at Miss Mack's establishment. The wife followed, but did not go in; she took what she thought was a wiser course and returned up town and sent a messenger for her husband. The proprietress told the messenger that the man inquired for was not there, and wanted to know who had sent him. The messenger was on to his job and did not say; in fact said he did not know and went away. The messenger in turn was followed by an emissary from the Mack establishment, and when it was learned that the party who wanted to see the business man was no one else than his wife there was consternation in the Mack camp—consternation that could not have been suppressed by the militia. The wife took the first train home and the man followed yesterday. What occurred yesterday at the South Whitley home will probably never be publicly known.

DR. EVANS WILL LECTURE.

Dr. W. A. Evans, of Chicago, a pathologist of national fame, will lecture this evening before the members of the Allen County Medical society in the assembly room of the court house. His subject will be "Fat Necrosis Associated With Gall Stones." The topic is one of the newest in medical science and the address will be of unusual interest. A synopsis of the evening's program has been printed and copies have been sent to members. After the address the members of the society will have an opportunity of meeting Dr. Evans at the home of the president of the medical society, Dr. E. J. McOscar.

THE NEWS OF THE POLICE

There was no police court this morning.

Officer Greer is off duty owing to the death of his mother, which occurred at her home in Marion township.

Nearly two weeks ago a bundle containing two lady's hats was found on the street and turned in at the police station last evening. Miss Troutman, of 268 West Washington street, called at the station and identified the hats as two which had been lost out of a buggy while she was homeward bound with the purchase.

Milk thieves continue to flourish in the south end. Some milk concerns deliver to their customers quite early in the morning and these are usually the sufferers. This morning four complaints were made at police headquarters that bottles containing the day's supply had been stolen before the families to whom they were delivered had arisen.

Some time last night petty thieves stole the heavy rubber cushions under the springs of all of Moran's ice wagons. Large blocks of rubber, weighing several pounds each, are placed under the springs of nearly all heavy trucks, calculated to protect the springs until the load decreases. When the drivers hitched up this morning it was, of course, still dark, and none of them noticed that the wagons had been robbed of the rubbers. The wagons were loaded as usual at the ice houses and one of them, after proceeding some distance, struck a rough pavement and a break-down was the result. An investigation showed that all the rubbers on the wagon were gone and subsequent investigation showed that the other wagons had suffered similarly. The police are investigating.

Rev. Henry Meissner, of Peru, was in the city Monday.

The Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price per pound, and is cheaper and better at its price than any similar article in the world. It makes more, better and more healthful food.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

for use during pregnancy.

It is a liniment, pleasing in application and of quick penetrating powers. Stay your hand from administering nasty drugs internally. You are anxious to have the child as perfect in limb and feature as yourself, and remember that on your condition of mind and body, depends its future happiness.

By its use you may escape morning sickness swelling breasts and any of the usual discomforts of pregnancy. Mother's Friend eases the nerves, relaxes the muscles, and stretches the abdominal tissues, so that they give with the pressure from the expanding organ.

All druggists keep it. It costs $1 per bottle. Write us for our free treatise on "Motherhood."

made the following statement to The Associated Press:

"Just consider that within about six weeks from the death of his distinguished victim, Czolgosz was regularly tried, convicted, sentenced and executed, and this despite the fact that the law compelled us to give him four weeks to prepare for death. All has been done in a dignified way and the greatest credit is due to Warden Mead for the care he has taken to strip the case of sensationalism. The execution was one of the most successful ever conducted in the state. Extraordinary care had to be taken in the case because both the warden and I received hundreds of threatening letters, many of them resulting in violent and intemperate language that the prisoner would never be put in the chair.

WILL KEEP LETTERS.

"I have decided for the present that we will not destroy any of the hundreds of letters written to Czolgosz, the warden and myself as to the case. Eventually they will be destroyed, but it has struck me that perhaps we should make a list of them, and especially of those letters signed with full and proper names, in which condolence was offered to the prisoner or threats against us was made. My plan is to get the addresses of these people and keep the list for police reference.

"I believe they may come a time when such a list would be valuable in running down anarchists. I have decided to bury the body of Czolgosz in the regular prison plot in the local cemetery. The funeral will take place sometime within the next forty-eight hours. We will keep the grave guarded day and night until such time as the quick lime which will be placed around the body shall have entirely destroyed it."

ELECTRICIAN TALKS.

Electrician Davis made this statement after the execution:

"I used 1,700 volts of electricity, turning it into the body at full voltage for seven seconds and then slowly reducing it for forty-five seconds. Then I threw the full voltage on again for eight seconds. Then, at the suggestion of Dr. MacDonald, I turned it on again for a few seconds. I did not think there was any necessity of the third contact, and the lack of resistance shown when it was administered proved that life was extinct. The body showed eight amperes of resistance. That is a little more than would be given by a larger or stouter man where the current would have more chance to percolate. It was as successful an execution as I have ever operated at in all my experience."

Rev. Cordello Herrick, chaplain of the prison, was in the death chamber ready for any call that might be made for his services. He was not wanted by the prisoner, however, and sat quietly in the rear of the chamber throughout the execution.

The clothing and personal effects of the prisoner were burned under direction of Warden Mead shortly after the execution.

BRAIN ABOVE NORMAL.

Naturally almost the entire attention of the physicians assigned to hold the autopsy was directed towards discovering, if possible, whether the assassin was in any way mentally irresponsible. The autopsy was conducted by Dr. Carlos F. MacDonald, E. A. Spitzka and Prison Physician Gerin. The top of the head was sawed off through the thickest part of the skull, which was found to be of normal thickness, and it was the unanimous agreement of the microscopical examination that the brain was normal or slightly above normal. This demonstrated to the satisfaction of the physicians that in no way was Czolgosz's mental condition, except as it might have been perverted, responsible for the crime.

PHYSICIANS' REPORT.

The autopsy was completed shortly before noon, when the surgeons issued the following brief statement:

"The autopsy was made by Mr. Edward A. Spitzka, of New York, under the immediate supervision and direction of Dr. Carlos F. MacDonald, of New York, and Dr. John Gerin, prison physician. The autopsy occupied over three hours and embraced a careful examination of all the bodily organs, including the brain. The examination revealed a perfectly healthy state of all the organs, including the brain.

"All of the physicians who attended the electrocution were present at the autopsy and all concurred in the findings of the examiners.

"John Gerin, M. D.
"Carlos F. MacDonald, M. D.
"E. L. Spitzka."

A lengthy technical statement is being prepared and will be issued later in the day. The body was placed in a black-stained pine coffin, every portion of the anatomy being replaced under the supervision of Warden Mead. Shortly afterward it was taken to the prison cemetery and extraordinary precaution taken to completely destroy it.

THE BODY DESTROYED.

A few days ago, under the warden's order, an experiment was made to determine the power of quicklime in the destruction of flesh and bone, which was not satisfactory. Warden Mead, who conferred with those of the physicians present, determined, in conjunction with Superintendent Collins, that the purpose of the law was the destruction of the body and that it was not necessary to use quicklime for that end.

Accordingly, a carboy of acid was obtained and poured upon the body in the coffin after it had been lowered into the grave. Straw was used in the four corners of the grave as the earth was put in to give vent to such gases as might form.

It is the belief of the physicians that the body will be entirely disintegrated within twelve hours. During that time and as long as deemed necessary a guard will be kept over the unmarked grave.

COULD NOT SEE REMAINS.

Waldeck Czolgosz and Waldeck Thomas Bandswosky, brother and brother-in-law of the assissin, called at the prison at 2 o'clock this afternoon. They sent word into Warden Mead that they wished to see the body of Leon Czlogosz. The warden told them that the body had been buried for more than an hour and that if they wished he would send a guard to guide them to the grave. They answered that they did not care to go to the cemetery, but that they were anxious to arrange for the collection of the insurance on the life of the dead murderer and asked that a certificate of death be given to them.

The warden promised them a certificate and they departed.

The insurance about which they talked is supposed to be in a fraternal society to which the murderer belonged.

THE ASSASSIN LIED.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 29.—In his interview with Superintendent Collins last night Czolgosz made another explanation of his visit to Chicago just before he went to Buffalo, but later admitted that he had lied. He said that when he reached Chicago a boy, whom he did not know, approached him at the depot and handed him a packet of money. He said the money was for use in the Buffalo trip, but that he never knew who sent it to him or the identity of the lad who delivered it. He then explained that most of the meetings of anarchists that he attended at Cleveland were held in saloons designated by anarchist newspapers.

Half an hour later, when the superintendent called in the brother and brother-in-law of the prisoner, he brought the subject up again and said:

"How about that money you got at Chicago?"

"What money?" asked the prisoner.

"Why, the money you told me about here earlier in the evening," said the superintendent.

"Did I tell you that. I have forgotten it if I did. I did not get any money. If I said it is was not true."

Another demonstration of the many falsehoods told by the prisoner was furnished by Waldeck Czolgosz. He positively assured Warden Mead that his brother Leon could read and write, in direct contradiction of the oft-repeated claim of the prisoner that he was illiterate.

FAMILY GETS THE NEWS.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 29.—Next to the witnesses in the death chamber at Auburn, where Leon Czolgosz's life was shocked out of existence, there were no more interested witnesses to the far away vindication of justice than a little group of men who had gathered in the local office of the Associated Press to learn of the final act early today. This group included the next of kin, the nearest of all human beings to the assassin, his father and two brothers, and half a dozen of his former neighbors in this city.

The same seeming indifference that has characterized the members of the Czolgosz family was maintained to the end, and when the statement that Leon Czolgosz had been put to death was told to the old man in Polish his fingers twitched nervously for a minute or so, a suspicion of a tear was seen to come into his dark eyes and he made a reply in Polish to a friend who acted as interpreter. The old man's statement was to the effect that inasmuch as it had to be it were better that it is all over.

When told of Leon's regret that he had not seen his father, the assassin's parent replied pathetically that had he been asked to go to Auburn he would have done so, but the news from Auburn was never assuring, and the father felt that he was not wanted, hence he remained at home.

The old man said finally that he would not have been a witness to the killing of his son, for the scene would have been too much for his paternal heart.

Other than the suspicion of a tear in the father's eye there was no sign of grief from him, and the two brothers, both younger than Leon, began to ask as to the probable painfulness of the electrocution. The party did not wait to hear details and soon left for their homes, the father of the assassin to his daily work in one of the city's parks, and the two brothers to their respective employments.

WITNESSES OF EXECUTION.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The jury that witnessed the execution of Czolgosz and returned the formal finding in his case was composed as follows:

The physicians were: Dr. Carlos A. McDonald, of New York, and Dr. Gerin, of Auburn.

Other witnesses were: H. Bonesteel, Troy; W. D. Wolff, Rochester; C. F. Rattigan, Auburn; George E. R. Peck, Auburn; W. N. Thayer, former warden of Dannemora prison, who assisted Warden Meade, and three newspaper correspondents.

ASSASSIN RESTED WELL.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Czolgosz rested exceedingly well for a man in the shadow of death. It was 4:45 o'clock before he finally walked up and left his cot. His sleep was almost unbroken throughout the night, and was restful and refreshing. He did not break his silence when he awoke nor did he show any indication of failing courage. Superintendent Collins and Warden Meade also arose at 4:45 o'clock and their first inquiry was as to the prisoner. They breakfasted early and at once set about to perfect the final details of the execution.

The prisoner was exceedingly quiet during the earlier hours and a few newspaper men who watched in front of the building were long without company. A couple of guards and city policemen watched the streets surrounding the prison, but there was nothing in the line of duty for them to do.

Lights began showing in the main prison at 5 o'clock and within an hour the entire household was astir for the new day. The night had been clear, but cold, and the morning was bright but chilly.

THE DEATH CHAMBER.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The chamber in which the murderer of President McKinley was executed was not the same in which the first electrocution took place here. It is comparatively a new building, strikingly elaborate in comparison with the very old prison structures about it. It is built of gray stone and is situated about half way down the prison yard on the left hand or south side. Entrance to it is possible either from the prison yard, or from the main south corridor and the execution room proper may be entered without passing the condemned cells.

From the time of his entry into the death house Czolgosz was confined to the cell nearest to the death chamber, so that when he entered the execution room this morning he had only to step a few feet through the stone arch and as the great iron door swung behind him he was beside the electric chair. The execution room has seats for the witnesses and is lighted with several windows placed high in the walls. In one corner of the wall is the closet in which the keyboard is situated, and in which Electrician Davis stood when he switched the current on.

THE PRELIMINARIES.

The preliminaries were exactly like those of every other execution. The witnesses gathered in the office of the warden on the second floor of the prison at a quarter to seven. At a few minutes before 7 the witnesses were told to quickly follow the warden and state superintendent of prisons and after walking through the long corridors took their places silently beside the death chair in the execution room. The iron door leading to the condemned cells was closed, but behind it the warden's assistants were preparing Czolgosz for death. The warden waited until the witnesses were seated, and then made the usual formal declaration that those present in the room were merely there as witnesses to a legal execution of a murderer, and that under no circumstances and no matter what the provocation, no one was to leave his seat or make any disturbance. Electrician Davis then put upon the arms of the chair a bank of twenty-two incandescent electric lights and attaching the electric wires, passed the current through them so that the lights glowed out brightly.

An assistant, in the meantime, put the two electrodes, which were lined with sponges, into pails of salt water, so as to get them wet enough to prevent the current from burning the victim's flesh.

THE TOP SCORE EVERY TIME

The reason why Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills reach the great mass of human ills where others fail, is because this phenomenally brilliant physician foresaw the tendency of the age to hurry, to overdo, to overstrain, to neglect of one's self—Realized it meant nerve exhaustion, nerve collapse, and provided a cure—Knew that the first slight symptoms—weariness, disinclination to work, flagging appetite and loss of energy would pass unnoticed—Knew they would grow into a settled depression, mental fogginess, forgetfulness, dull, persistent headaches, impaired digestion, restlessness, nervousness, dizziness, heart irregularities and an inability to sleep—and so construct the Nerve Pills that they meet the situation fully—not by whipping or stimulation, but by the common sense plan of supplying to the nerves and tissues that which folly has robbed them of. Under thier splendid re-invigorating power, one rests, one sleeps, the nerves grow quiet and steady, the heart action strong and regular, digestion perfect, the mind clear, and the body strong and vigorous.

This shaped box—no other. Signature and portrait of Dr. A. W. Chase on each box. Price 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Med. Co., 267 Washington St., Buffalo, N. Y.

TESTIMONIAL.

Mrs. John Irwin, of No. 16 Monroe street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "I used to suffere from good, hard nervous sick headaches—headaches that prostrate and leave one nervous. I was advised to use Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and got some at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, No. 14 Calhoun street. The medicine has been a great boon, the headaches are gone and with them the attendent nervousness and depression. I think the Nerve Pills particularly good."

TESTIMONIAL.

Mr. John Mooney, of No. 180 Lafayette street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a splendid medicine. My heart was very irregular, due to excessive tobacco using. The nervous system itself was profoundly impressed by the tobacco. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got some at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, No. 14 Calhoun street. The medicine so toned up the nervous system and strengthened me that the heart action became steady and strong—something it has not been for a long time. I am greatly pleased with the medicine."

TESTIMONIAL.

Mrs. I. A. Byall, of No. 245 Webster street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills as a cure for nervous sick headaches of a painful and long standing type. The medicine which I got at Meyer Bros. & Co's drug store, No. 14 Calhoun street, was excellent. The headaches disappeared completely and I am more than pleased."

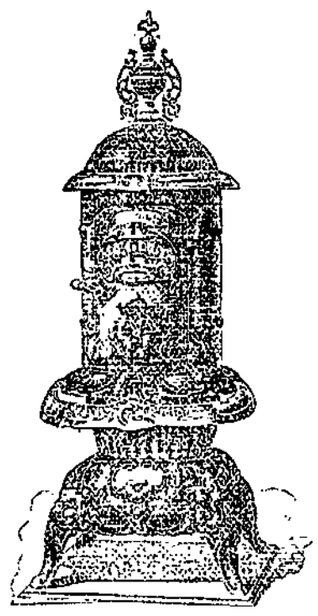
--A GREAT INVENTION--



A stove that burns Gas, Coal or Wood separately, or all at the same time, without the change or addition of a single plate or piece.

The coal grate is always in position ready for use. Upon it you can burn coal, coke or wood.

The gas burner is also always in position. The burner is so located that it does not interfere with the action of the grate or the burning of coal, coke or wood and cannot be stopped up with coal or wood ashes.

If the gas pressure is a little low you can put in coal, coke or wood and burn either kind of fuel along with the gas. If by reason of accident or other cause the supply of gas is all suddenly shut off you can have a coal, coke or wood fire before the stove has had time to cool.

There is a patent on the device and it can be had only on the Oakdale stove, and we have obtained the sole agency in Fort Wayne. You have only to come in and see it and you would not then buy any other Oak stove and would hardly take any other for a gift. You'll "TOOL YOURSELF" very badly if you buy a heating stove without seeing this one.

You buy all kinds of Stoves and Ranges of us at the same small profits at which we sell Furniture.

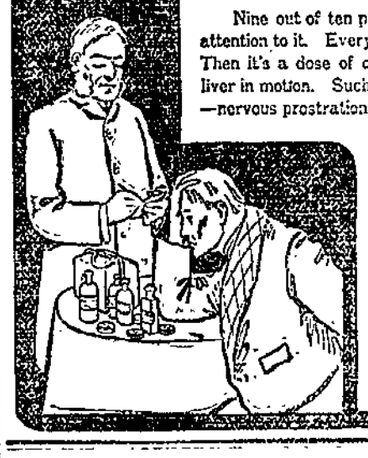
Adding Fuel to the Fire



Nine out of ten people are afflicted with constipation in one form or another, but pay little or no attention to it. Every week or ten days a violent headache warns them that something is wrong. Then it's a dose of calomel, pills or some other irritating, griping purgative to set the bowels and liver in motion. Such treatment is only adding fuel to the fire so to speak—undermines the system—nervous prostration and utter collapse is the end.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

taken as directed at meal times counteracts hasty and over eating, aiding digestion, acting gently on the bowels in a manner pleasant to the user—headaches disappear, you are your old self again. Get a bottle today—take it regularly at meal times.

DEATH'S RECORD OF THE DAY

MRS. SARAH E. GREER DIED MONDAY NIGHT.

Was a Well Known Resident of Pleasant Township—Other Deaths and Funerals.

Mrs. Sarah E. Greer, wife of ex-County Assessor Thomas Greer, died Monday evening at 11 o'clock at her home, in Pleasant township, at the age of 60 years.

Mrs. Greer was born in Randolph county, Ind., December 23, 1841, and was the daughter of the late Chester Shives, of Pleasant township. Her mother died when Mrs. Greer was 6 years old and two years later her father moved to Pleasant township, where he has since resided.

She was married to Thomas Greer in 1859, and her husband and eight children, four sons and four daughters, survive her. The children are John, Chester and Thomas Greer, Mrs. Sarah J. Wellbaum, Cora and Clara Greer, of this county, and William Greer and Mrs. Ella E. Rhoades, of Pueblo, Col.

The funeral will take place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the house and services will be conducted at Prairie Grove chapel later. The interment will be in the adjoining cemetery.

AKER.

Mrs. Charles Aker of 65 Howell street, died Monday afternoon after an extended illness at the age of 36 years.

The funeral will take place from the residence at 9 o'clock Wednesday and from Jefferson chapel, in Whitley county, at 1 o'clock. Rev. J. N. Field will conduct the funeral services at the residence.

POND.

Georgia Maria Pond, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Pond, died Monday evening.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Scharf.—The funeral of Charles Scharf will be held Wednesday morning at 9:30 from the residence of his mother, Mrs. Regina Ehinger, of Edsall avenue. Interment will be in the Catholic cemetery.

Wadge.—Funeral services of William Wadge will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from his late residence, 143 Montgomery street, Rev. A. W. Seabrease officiating.

Baker.—The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Baker will be held Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock from the residence, No. 36 Wabash avenue, conducted by Rev. M. C. Cooper. Interment at Huntertown.

Parry.—The funeral of Joseph W. Parry will be held Wednesday morning at 10:30 from his late residence, 29 West Butler street, and at 11 o'clock from Simpson M. E. church, Rev. J. A. Patterson, officiating. The burial will occur at Richmond.

WILL INITIATE CANDIDATES.

Forty-five candidates are on the list for admission to membership to the Knights of Columbus, and the knights are planning to have a big initiation on Thanksgiving day. It is thought that there will be about sixty candidates by that time and the initiation of so large a class will be made the occasion of a big celebration. Knights from several of the larger neighboring cities will be present to the number of several hundred and they will be regaled with a banquet. Knights of Columbus hall is being handsomely decorated throughout and some new furniture and hangings are being put in.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The board of works met regularly yesterday afternoon and quite unexpectedly were confronted by Messrs. D. N. Foster and C. H. Worden, who presented a petition with twenty-five signatures asking that Fairfield avenue be paved from Brackenridge street to Organ avenue. The gentlemen stated, however, that before the street was paved they wanted the interurban question settled and wanted the board to grant the Fort Wayne Traction company a franchise to build a double track the entire length of Fairfield avenue. It was also suggested that the easiest way to settle the interurban question would be by compelling the outsiders to accept the terms offered by Mr. Scott. Mr. Worden said he thought if the matter was turned over to him he could make terms with the Fort Wayne Traction company and assured the board that Mr. Scott is not a hard man to deal with. Mr. Foster then suggested that if interurban companies would coss over to Lafayette street on the south side and come down Lafayette street to Holman then east to Clinton and north on Clinton to the traction company's lie the whole matter would be settled. The board was not exactly stunned, but it was much surprised. When Chairman Eggemann regained his composure sufficiently to talk he remarked that there were other things besides traction company franchises to be considered before Fairfield avenue can be paved. In the first place the council has cut down the appropriation for next year to $10,000, which is not sufficient to make the street improvements already promised and agreed upon and keep up the repairs; until a change in the appropriation is made, it is only a waste of time to talk about Fairfield avenue. The board, however, thanked the gentlemen for their kindly proffers to take the question out of their hands, but said the matter must rest where it is for the present.

The bonds of Charles Schreck and C. K. Fairfield to lay sidewalks under private contract were approved and a notice from Superintendent McKim, saying he would meet the board next week to talk about tunneling Nelson street under the tracks, was received.

THE STATE'S STAR WITNESS CALLED.

come up toward the house; I was then at clothesline. He stepped into the cow barn; remained there just a second, and came to the house. I entered the house after him—right after—entering at the woodshed door.

DUNN WAS PALE.

He was pale and I asked him what was the matter; he said he came pretty near getting a sunstroke. He then ate his dinner; didn't eat much. When he got through eating he entered sitting room; later went out to barn. Mrs. Dunn was in sitting room as he came in to eat his dinner. In sitting room he sat on lounge, with head bent upon his hands, elbows resting on his knees.

We had supper a little after 6; Mr. and Mrs. Dunn were there; Delph Reed was not; he got home about 9 o'clock. He had supper soon after returning.

I went to bed that night at 3 o'clock in the morning; had slept on lounge until that time. Reed went to bed upstairs when he came home. Dunn did not go to bed until after I did.

I had been at Cothrell's in evening; it was after 11 when I returned; Mr. Dunn and Mrs. Dunn were there—both in sitting room. Saw Dunn at Cothrell's shortly before we came from Cothrell's. While I lay on lounge near morning Dunn asked me if I were not going to bed. Dunn was fully dressed. I went to bed upstairs. We got up somewhat late; Dunn and his wife and Delph Reed were there.

People were searching for Alice on night of July 2 and up to 4th of July. Talked with Dunn morning of July 4 on north steps by woodshed door; no other persons there.

WHAT DUNN REMARKED.

He was talking about Alice; told me she wasn't more than fifty miles away from home; that she was dead; that Mrs. Cothrell had licked her and wouldn't get a chance to lick her again.

DUNN WANTED HER TO LEAVE.

He wanted me to go to Toledo; but to tell people I was going to Aboit; said he would pay my way and give me clothes; said he would fix me out all right.

I was not willing to go; he said he wanted me to go to John Ervin at Toledo; I knew him at Wallen. He was a young man.

Speaking of Alice he said he'd tell me something if I wouldn't tell Dell. I wouldn't agree to it. Dunn said Delph would squeal on him.

Friday Mrs. Dunn said she thought Alice was in the cistern. Dunn told her he'd knock her down if she didn't shut up. Recollect this was Friday.

Dunn said Mrs. Cothrell had wished Alice dead, and she's got her wish.

In the afternoon he told me the officers were there and would want to see me.

Dunn said he'd like to turn Delph off; he wanted me to go with Ervin, and not with Delph.

On Wednesday, talked with Dunn at woodshed; he was sitting with head on hands; elbows on knees; spitting on floor. Dunn said he didn't believe in those stories people were telling. He said they'd be looking in the cistern next. I said, "Let 'em look."

Was a witness before coroner's inquest.

There was a vigorous objection by Mr. Colerick when Judge Hench questioned witness regarding her testimony at the coroner's inquest on the ground that evidence at the inquest had not been offered, and cited legal grounds for his position. The point was argued with much vehemence, Judge Hench, Mr. Colerick and Mr. Emrick participating in the discussion. Under Judge O'Rourke's ruling witness was allowed to answer and defense filed an objection.

DUNN CAUTIONED HER.

Witness said one of her answers at the coroner's inquest regarding screams had been given because "Dunn said I should be careful what I said in there; he said it just a few minutes before I went in." This was at the court house. I was standing by the stove when cistern was searched at Dunn's on Sunday afternoon. Table was standing beside the cistern. Nooman, Ballou, Dunn and I were there. I was washing dishes when they came in. Part of the table extended over the trap door; they had to move it out of the way. I was washing dishes on the table. Saw them take Alice Cothrell's dead body out of the cistern. I do not know how Alice got into that cistern.

DID NOT PUT GIRL IN CISTERN.

Replying to questions, witness said she did not put her there; did not assist in placing her there, and did not know her body was there until it was taken out.

That night Dunn closed all the shutters and put a paper up to the glass in the front door. He said there might be curious eyes looking through there. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, Delph Reed and I remained in that house all night.

Witness detailed indecent remarks of Dunn in calling her on morning of July 1.

Came to city Monday morning about 9 o'clock; Dunns were with me; came to court house.

WILL SOON BE A MOTHER.

Witness stated that she is in a delicate condition and expects to become a mother about the last of November.

The witness was asked if she had improper sexual relations with Dunn. In this the defense objected and a long discussion ensued.

The court took a recess and the jurors retired for a few moments' rest while Judge O'Rourke considered the propriety of admitting certain evidence.

When court was again in order Mr. Colerick announced a withdrawal of his objection and witness said defendant had held improper relations with her twice during her stay at Wallen—the first along the last of April and again in June.

Witness said that in June, after she found herself pregnant, Dunn spoke to her about having an operation, and made the attempt to perform it. He used a wire and a pencil. I was upstairs in Dunn's house—in Delph Reed's room. It was in the daytime. Only we two were in house; Mrs. Dunn was in the garden behind the barn. It was in the afternoon, about 3 o'clock. Dunn used the wire and the pencil. I was lying on the bed.

MR. RYAN'S TESTIMONY.

Continuing his examination Monday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Ryan said he talked with Dunn again, between Dunn's and Main's houses. As I approached Dunn said he would take Young around and show him where Alice was last seen; that Alice was a little, mean-dispositioned thing and would steal things; that Marie had said Alice came into the house, went out through the yard, and was last seen at the end of the alley.

Then Young left us, said witness, and went towards the barn, and Dunn and I followed, entering north door of barn. Dunn said:

"She won't come back; she's mean and tricky; her mother is always having trouble with her; that morning she broke a tumbler and Edna slapped her. Last week she was over in the mill playing with the boys. I was upstairs and hallowed at her to leave. She did not go, and then her mother came and called. She ran around a pile of lumber, and did not go home."

Witness said he talked with Dunn at court house about noon on day of coroner's inquest. Colonel Stites was present. Dunn said Edna came to his house Tuesday about 2 o'clock and asked for Alice; he told her she was not there, but that he would look for her. After eating dinner Dunn said he started to look, but was called by a neighbor to help unload hay; that after that he had looked so close that if there had been a rat there he would have found it; that he thought she was sunstruck.

Mr. Ryan was not cross-examined.

Andrew J. Moynihan sworn; am editor of the Journal-Gazette; was at Wallen on week following discovery of Alice Cothrell's body in the cistern. Witness described the coverings of cistern. When Prosecutor Emrick asked witness to describe water defense objected, but was overruled, witness said water looked dark and polluted.

SHERIFF A WITNESS.

Sheriff Stout was the next witness called. Am sheriff of Allen county; have been in that office since November 17. Am acquainted in neighborhood of Wallen. Was deputy sheriff nearly eight years. Have known Charles Dunn six or eight years.

Went to Wallen Sunday afternoon, July 7; Dr. W. W. Barnett was with me; arrived there about 4 or 5 o'clock. We went to Dunn's yard, where body of Alice Cothrell lay. Saw Dunn moving around there. Body was taken to her father's residence, about 250 feet away. I accompanied them. Dr. Barnett examined the neck of the little girl, and then went to lower extremities; examined the private parts of the body. Witness described the examination by Dr. Barnett; girl's drawers were open at left side; the fastening was a hairpin. There was a button on right side and in front, but garment was not buttoned to front button; it was unloosed from left side and in front. Garment was hanging down where loosened; it was stained. Witness told of seeing unnatural conditions of the private parts. This was before Dr. Greenwell came; it was still light.

Later witness held lamp while Dr. Greenwell and Dr. Barnett were making their examination of the child's body. Was also present at second post mortem by Drs. Greenawalt and Rosenthal.

When I first saw the body the tongue was protruding through the teeth about three-quarters of an inch, possibly a little more; saw tongue also at second post mortem; doctors had removed it; tongue was bitten underneath; think there were four marks.

Distance from horse barn to the residence is about 270 feet; I stepped it a short time ago. No houses on the route and no houses adjacent to the horse barn. Looked into cistern. Witness described the two coverings to cistern and the space intervening. Did not see any water dipped from the cistern.

On cross-examination, Mr. Stout said cistern was apparently the one that was there before kitchen was built. There is a small shed on Main's lot; back of Dunn's house is a small barn on the alley. Witness also detailed at some length the surroundings of the adjacent premises, including the location of the sawmill.

Recalled by the state, Mr. Stout said he saw an old pump stock sticking out of a cistern in the mill.

William E. Dunfee was the next witness; live at Wallen, formerly lived at Ashley, in Steuben county. Know Charles Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Cothrell. July 2 witness said he was helping Mr. Jetmore make rails. Heard that Alice Cothrell was missing July 2 about 9 o'clock in the evening; my wife told me while I was in bed.

Arose next morning about 4:30 and during the forenoon searched through Wallen for the child. Searched the mill cistern; probed around with a rake; found nothing. My house is about three squares from the sawmill.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Lower cables and light trade brought a quiet opening for December wheat today, unchanged to ½c lower, at 71½c to 71c. There was little in the situation to influence the market one way or the other. Local offerings were light and there was a little selling on the part of commission houses. Argentine crop news still indicated heavy losses in that country, but did nothing more than bring a temporary rise of a shade early in the morning. Conditions in the southwest have changed for the better and chances for the new crop are good. The northwest movement seems also to have started in earnest. Local receipts were 240 cars, 2 of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 869 cars, making a total for the three points of 1,109 cars, against 962 last week and 767 a year ago.

Corn cables were a little higher, but only served to keep December about steady at the opening, unchanged to a shade lower, at 56⅞c to 56¾@56⅞c. The early trade was light and all local. A little later in the session, however, there developed some professional demand, and offerings not being liberal, shorts went to cover, advancing December to 57¼c. Receipts were 217 cars.

Oats opened quiet, December a shade higher at 36½c. The same independent firmness of tone that has characterized this pit for the last week was shown early. Offerings were scanty and on a moderate outside demand December advanced to 36⅝c. Receipts were 219 cars.

Provisions opened heavy on a sagging hog market. There were fairly free offerings of lard, but otherwise the market was very dull. January pork opened 2½c to 7½c lower at $14.85@14.90; January lard 10c down at $8.65 and sold between that price and $8.72½, and January ribs 7½c lower at $7.65, and advanced 2½c.

MEYER CASE IS UP.

E. S. Barnard, of the Columbus Base Ball association; C. W. Halderman, representing the Marion association, and I. Mautner, of the Fort Wayne club, appeared in Tancey's court this afternoon to prosecute the charges filed against William Meyer for embezzling or misappropriating funds belonging to their several associations. Mr. Barnard, who is the acting president of the Western Base Ball association, maintained an aggressive position and was represented by State Attorney Emrick and the conards, while Mr. Meyer was represented by N. D. Doughman and Harry C. Hanna. As The Sentinel went to press there was no prospect of a settlement and the probabilities are that the defendant will waive a preliminary hearing and give bond to appear in the circuit court to answer the charges.

Germany imported more than $4,000,000 worth of goods from Portugal last year, chiefly cork, wine, fruit, sardines and wax.

A RUMOR CURRENT

SYNDICATE REPORTED BUYER

DEFINITE INFORMATION IS HARD TO FIND.

SOUTHWESTERN NOT IN IT

M'KINLEY SYNDICATE MANAGER MAKES DENIAL.

A gentleman close to the city administration and supposed to be in intimate communication with the Fort Wayne Traction company, said to The Sentinel this morning that he had good reason to believe that the Fort Wayne Traction company had practically changed hands. The gentleman stated that his information was of such a character that he could scarcely disregard it, but at the same time said he was not at liberty to divulge its source and could not permit his name to be used in discussing the matter.

The rumor, which has gained tolerable circulation in inside circles, is to the effect that the deal was consummated last Friday and that when the transfer is made the new owners will be a syndicate that is endeavoring to control the traction business urban and interurban, in all of northern Indiana. In addition to this statement it was stated that the said syndicate is not the Moore-Everett syndicate of Cleveland, but when asked whether the visit of the officials of the Dietrich gas company to Fort Wayne last week had any significance, the denial was firm, but not quite so vehement.

One story is to the effect that Manager Nelson, of the Southwestern company, engineered the deal, but this statement Attorney Doughman emphatically denies. He says that he will go on record as saying that his company has nothing whatever to do with the deal, although he had heard within the last twenty-four hours that such a deal had been consummated. He said his company is independent of the Fort Wayne Traction company and at the meeting of the committee of the whole tonight will present its claims again for an entrance on Harrison street. The Fort Wayne Traction company, he says, will meet it with a better proposition than it has ever before offered.

Members of the board of works said that they had heard something of a sale or proposed sale, but knew nothing of it. Bob Hanna, representing a local syndicate, standing ready to build a terminal system for the use of all interurban companies, said that he had heard of it, but could not locate it. He thought the deal had been made at Kansas City last Friday, but did not know and was not in a position to say anything. City Attorney Shambaugh said he had heard of it, but was innocent of any authentic information.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

TO DRIVE TWO WELLS.

Yesterday afternoon the water works trustees opened bids for drilling two new wells at or close to station No. 2. The wells are to be approximately 300 feet deep and will extend into rock 210 feet. The bids were as follows:

Thompson, Bacon & Bougher, of Fort Wayne—$720 per well.

E. B. Curtis & Co., of Hartford City—$808 per well.

Harmon Water Supply company, of Tiffin, O.—$825 per well.

The contract was awarded to Thompson, Bacon & Bougher, as in addition to being the lowest bidder, agreed to complete the work in shorter time than either of the others.

The council as a committee of the whole will meet this evening at the city hall to take up the question of interurban railroad entrances again. While the committee is called more particularly to discuss the Harrison street franchise asked for by the Southwestern Traction company, it is more than likely that the discussion will be led into other channels unless Chairman Scheid holds the committee down to the strict subject matter. Mayor Berghoff favors committee of the whole meetings to be open to the public, but whether Chairman Scheid will order an executive session or not can not now be foretold.

No fewer than 587,884 prisoners were in the prisons of British India in 1899-1900, an increase of 92,064 over the number for 1891. Of this huge total only 24,555 were females, which is a much smaller proportion than in western countries.

Fire! Fire!!

When that cry sounds how people rush to help and sympathize! And when some fireman rescues a woman from the flames, the streets echo with applauding shouts.

And yet if that woman had perished in the flames it is possible that she would have suffered less than she suffers almost daily from the inflammation which disease has lighted in the delicate womanly organism.

That fire of inflammation can be put out. The gnawing ulcer can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only establishes womanly regularity and dries enfeebling drains, but it heals inflammation and ulcerations and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I suffered for four years with what four physicians pronounced ulceration and prolapsus of the uterus," writes Mrs. Ada Brooks, of Kirbyville, Taney Co., Missouri. "Also inflammation of bladder and urethra. My case was chronic and complicated. Had several good physicians, but kept getting worse. Had been confined to my bed five months when I wrote to you. I received your reply very soon and then dismissed my physician and began taking Dr. Pierce's medicines. I took eight bottles of his 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and began to get better at once. In two months I could sit up in a chair, and kept getting better. In four months could do all my house work, including washing and sewing."

RAMSEY COMING

ARRIVES HERE ON SPECIAL TRAIN THIS EVENING.

WILL INSPECT THE NEW ROAD

GEN. SUPT. MAGEE POSTPONES HIS VISIT.

ENGINE LOSES DRIVE WHEEL

FINDLAY FREIGHT BARELY ESCAPES A WRECK.

President Joseph Ramsey, of the Wabash and the Wheeling and Lake Erie roads, will arrive in the city about 5 o'clock this evening and will at once proceed to New Haven to inspect the line now under construction at that point. It is possible that Mr. Ramsey will spend the night here. General Supt. H. L. Magee was expected today, also, but he has postponed his visit for some reason not known here. Mr. Ramsey's special train left Peru at 3:30 o'clock and is traveling slowly in order that the president may the better inspect the property.

TAKES BETTER JOB.

John C. Williams has resigned as fireman on the Nickel Plate to take charge of the engine room of the Kentucky Veneer company, of Louisville, at a considerable advance in salary over that afforded by the Nickel Plate position. Mr. Williams' father is the superintendent of the veneer works. W. H. Bells, whose resignation as fireman on the Nickel Plate was mentioned yesterday, has secured a similar position on the Wabash.

A DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS.

George W. Cowles, a director of the Great Eastern railway, of England, who is in this country, has the following to say in regard to the leading railroads of England: "British railroad companies are not in as healthy condition just now as they were five years ago. Dividends have decreased somewhat. This is due chiefly to the rise in price of coal and materials. Other causes are the increase in wages, coupled with shorter hours, and the large increase that is year by year taking place in rates and taxes; the great outlay that is constantly going on to meet the additional demands of the government; the increasing opposition of electric roads; the unnecessary train mileage, and, above all, the competition. All these causes have operated to reduce profits. Notwithstanding these drawbacks, however, the leading railroads are still operated at a substantial profit. The outcome of unnecessary competition will, in my opinion, be of the greatest benefit to the large railroad companies, for it means that the smaller enterprises will be finally driven out of the field. The United Kingdom is too small a country for keen competition in the railroad business to become profitable. At present the competition is fatuous, the capital expenditure without warrant and the mileage far in excess of needs. During the last twelves years working expenses have gone up from 52 to 60 per cent., which is bound to sooner or later result in crushing out the small railroads that have sprung up like mushrooms within the last six years. When this has been accomplished the leading railroad companies will get around again to their former financially healthy condition. This result is inevitable."

WORKING A NIGHT GANG.

Owing to the immense demand for the products of the room presided over by Councilman J. J. Bauer, at the electric works, that gentleman has been compelled to put on a night gang. There are twenty men in the night force and indications are favorable to an increase in number. Mr. Bauer now has the largest number of men ever employed in that department, and his room has more men to the floor space than any establishment in the city. It is a veritable bee-hive.

JAMES GORDON RESIGNS.

After his return from Baltimore yesterday James S. Gordon tendered his resignation as clerk in the motive power offices of the Pennsylvania and immediately went to Chicago, where he this morning assumed a responsible position with the Illinois Car and Equipment company. It is understood that his duties with his new employer will be similar to those he performed for G. L. Potter when that gentleman was general motive power superintendent of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg. Mr. Gordon is an expert stenographer and will succeed in that line anywhere.

BROKE AN AXLE.

Engine 3, with Engineer George at the throttle, which was pulling train No. 31, the local freight, on the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western, lost a drive wheel at 1:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The accident happened at Davis, as the train was pulling out of a siding onto the main track, and no damage other than to the engine occurred. Had the axle broken while the engine was moving rapidly the result might have been disastrous to life and property. Conductor Hoppus had charge of the train.

FELL IN GETTING ON TRAIN.

Harry M. Brokaw, an employe at the Pittsburg cabinet shop, was the victim of an accident this morning for which he alone was to blame. He attempted to get on the train which brings the dispatchers down from the east yards, when he missed his hold of the hand rail and was pitched headlong on the hard ground. He sustained some very painful wounds about the head and face, and will be unable to work for a day or two.

TOOK ON SOME NEW EMPLOYES.

Several new names appear on the Pennsylvania shop's pay rolls today. George F. Miller, nee "Doggie" Miller, the ball player, whose acceptance as an employe at the 'smith shop was mentioned some days ago, commenced work in Owen Barry's gang at one of the big steam hammers; Walter Hamilton, a graduate of the High school last spring, and a son of Trustee Allen Hamilton, took a position with Storekeeper Enoch Cox, and Ed Henkenius and Frank B. Pranger took positions under Foreman P. J. Scheld in the round house.

IS NOW A ROUTE AGENT.

Oliver Hebert, jr., whose resignation as night clerk at the Pittsburg round house was mentioned last week by the Sentinel, has taken a position as route agent with the Adams Express company and has been assigned to runs 18 and 15, between this city and Crestline. He will make his first trip over the route today.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Machinist Fred Voelke has resigned a position at the Bass works to accept one elsewhere.

George T. Ladd is in Cleveland today in the interest of the Bass Foundry and Machine company.

Carpenters are at work renewing the ties and walk on the Nickel Plate bridge over St. Marys river.

Machinist Charles Seabold, who was married a week ago, reported for duty at the Wabash shops this morning.

Mrs. Edwards, wife of the Pennsylvania car builder, is at Nevada, O., where a relative is lying very sick.

Emil Meyer and Fay Ramsey resigned positions with Foreman J. J. Bauer, at the electric works, this morning.

William Canniff, president of the Nickel Plate, passed through the city on train 1 yesterday en route to Chicago.

Mrs. Anna Taylor and her barrel passed through the city on Nickel Plate train No. 2 yesterday, en route for Niagara, with the intention of making another trip over the Falls if she receives the proper encouragement in the way of price.

W. D. Carpenter has been transferred from the engine paint room to the passenger department of the Pittsburg shops.

Pittsburg Firemen F. E. Crawford, C. F. Hohnholz and A. R. Downing are off duty by permission. Mr. Crawford's wife is sick.

F. I. Brown went to Chicago this morning to look after some business connected with the lumber department of the Pennsylvania.

Engineer Ed Wolf, of the Nickel Plate, has gone to Dayton, Ohio, to attend the funeral of his brother, who died at that place last Sunday.

Engineer Ed Wolf, of the Nickel Plate, has gone to Dayton, Ohio, to attend the funeral of his brother, who died at that place last Sunday.

Thomas Telley resigned a position at the Wabash boiler shops that he has held for three or four months. He will take a better position elsewhere.

Chief Clerk F. D. Reed, of the motive power department of the Pennsylvania, today moved into his handsome new home on Brackenridge street.

Wesley Wells is looking after private business. Brakeman Berdelman reported for work after a brief rest. They are Nickel Plate employes.

Thomas Patton, roundhouse machinist at the Pittsburg, who has been off duty on account of the death of his brother-in law, reported this morning.

E. C. Gordon, fuel clerk at the Pittsburg motive power offices, has returned to his desk duties, after a pleasant visit at Baltimore, Washington and New York.

Nickel Plate Conductor R. A. Meyers, of Bellevue, who was off duty on account of the death of his brother, J. R. Meyers, came here this morning to report for duty on the road.

Senator Marcus Hanna is speaking today in the vicinity of Bucyrus. He travels in a special car and the Pennsylvania handled it between Bucyrus and Mansfield this afternoon.

Superintendent Hill, of the interlocking and signal department of the Pittsburg, made a trip over the western end of the division today to see that everything was in good shape.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jungles will leave today for Dubuque, Ia., to visit his aged parents. They expect to be absent from the city about ten days. Mr. Jungles is a Pennsylvania engineer.

Clark Scheid received injuires to his left hand yesterday and will be off duty a few days as a result of the accident. Mr. Scheid is employed in the air brake department of the Pittsburg shops.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "President Ramsey, of the Wabash, received painful injuries on Saturday by falling from a street car on his way down town. He expects, however, to be at his office today."

Contractor William Kelley this morning commenced the erection of a dwelling house on Mechanic street, and Contractor Fred Tieman commenced a house for Mrs. Rose on West Jefferson street, near the park.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fleming, of Columbus, O., returned to their home today after a pleasant visit with Patrolman C. J. Rulo, of the Pennsylvania police force, and his wife. Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. Rulo are sisters.

Machinists John Casey and Robert Taylor have completed the task of repairing and enlarging the steam plant of the Wabash Paper company and last night returned home. This morning they resumed their duties in the Bass shops.

William Hockaday, an experienced railroad man, was given employment on the Nickel Plate today. There appears to be no lack of applications for work of that kind by inexperienced men, but those who know something about the work are more difficult to find, and when they appear are quickly employed if they are sober and worthy fellows.

Assistant Master Car Builder Frank Swellingen and Lieutenant S. W. Harrod, of the Pittsburg, went to Van Wert this morning to testify in the case of a man accused of stealing brasses from the Pennsylvania cars at that place.

An employe of the Fort Wayne Iron works was struck on the head this morning by a bar of iron. A gash was cut in his forehead, which bled profusely. The wound was dressed at Meyer Bros.' drug store, after which the man returned to his work.

William Brennan, the well known machinist at the Electric works, is indignant over the use of his name by a "drunk" up before Judge Louttit yesterday morning. Mr. Brennan is decidedly of the opinion that offenders of this class should not be allowed to give a name other than their own when arrested.

The new gasoline engine was placed in position at the pumping station of the Nickel Plate, on the west bank of the St. Marys river, yesterday and will be ready for operation tomorrow. While the work of making the change at the pumping station was in progress the water supply was drawn from the city mains.

According to the absentee list at the Pittsburg shops, E. Simonton, R. W. Shaw, Martin N. Crawford, Louis Gronau, H. C. Strangman and E. J. Hunter are sick; W. H. Long is kept at home by the sickness of his wife; J. C. Roper is attending the funeral of a relative, and J. C. Berndhardt, J. J. Baches and G. Buhr are looking after private matters.

J. D. Quinn, a brakeman who has been visiting in the city for a few days, will leave this week for Grand Rapids to assume a position on the Pere Marquette road. Mr. Quinn was employed in that capacity on the Pittsburg road some months ago, and since his service there he has been working on the Baltimore and Ohio, with headquarters at Garrett, Ind.

Engines 250 and 821, which figured in the collision on the Wabash road, near Lafayette, last Saturday, arrived at the shops in this city this morning for repairs. No. 250 is a passenger engine and 821 is one of the new Richmond compound freight engines just put into service. The latter did not suffer much, but the former, which is lighter, was pretty badly used up. Her cab was broken, pilot knocked off and front end of frames bent badly and the tank was thrown completely off its trucks.

NERVOUS STRAIN

Reacts Upon the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels.

Nearly everyone of us is much of the time under tremendous nervous strain. This means a using up of brain and nerve tissues, the waste from which must be carried off through the blood and eliminated through the liver, kidneys and bowels. At times the conditions under which we live make it impossible for nature to do this rapidly and thoroughly enough without help. It is just this help which Alma-Bromo Salt gives. It acts on the liver, kidneys and bowels in a general way, removing thoroughly all impurities and gives a tone to the whole system which cannot be had from drugs and medicines.

If you write to the Michigan Drug Co., Detroit, Mich., who are the general distributors of this natural product of the famous Alma-Bromo Spring at Alma, Mich., they will send you free, prepaid, enough of the Salt to give it a good trial, or you can obtain a full-size bottle from your druggist.

THE WEATHER.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Forecast for Indiana: Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; continued warm; fresh southerly winds.

LOCAL LINES.

The Ladies' Progressive Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. E. G. Pierce, 245 East Lewis street, Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

Herman Yager, of Decatur, was in the city this morning to visit his brother, Louis, who recently underwent an operation at St. Joseph hospital.

The Christian Endeavor society of Plymouth Congregational church will give a hallowe'en social on Friday evening in the parlors of the church.

The Cheerful Aid society will be entertained at the home of Mrs. C W. Thiebolt, 70 Erie street, on Wednesday afternoon, instead of Friday afternoon.

M. J. Stack, architect, will go to Kendallville tomorrow to superintend the construction of an $8,000 residence for W. H. Gappinger, of that enterprising town. The house contains eleven rooms and is beautifully finished inside. Mr. Stock prepared the plans for the residence.

John Parnin was awarded the contract for rewiring and lighting the bath rooms and bowling alleys in Library hall at a meeting of the executive board last evening. The opening of the alleys has been delayed several weeks, but it is thought they will be ready for games this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kelsey opened their home in a charming manner last evening to the members of Mr. Kelsey's Sunday school class and a few of their friends. A guessing contest, which afforded much fun, resulted in Miss Florence Jones carrying off the first prize and Miss Nellie Tinkham, the consolation, after which luncheon was served.

The 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Meese, of 11 Koch street, was painfully injured while visiting in the country on Sunday. The child was playfully shoved by a playmate and fell against a chair, inflicting a bad gash in her lip and in the roof of her mouth, and several of the child's teeth were loosened. Dr. Stults put several stitches in the cuts.

The new protecting wall being put into the river along the water side of the Centlivre brewery will be completed this week if nothing unforseen occurs. The wall is 210 feet long, is five and one-half feet wide at the bottom and two and a half feet wide at the top, and is seventeen feet high. It is founded five feet below the river bottom and is built entirely of concrete, making it as firm as though it was a piece of solid stone of the dimensions named. Thirty men have been continuously employed on the work by Contractor Becker, who started on the job about fifteen days ago. In its construction over 600 barrels of cement have been used and altogether is is one of the most remarkable pieces of masonry ever attempted in northern Indiana. Its cost will run into many thousands of dollars.

FINE COURSE OF LECTURES

WINTER SERIES AT PLYMOUTH CHURCH.

Religion, Benevolences, Medicine, Education, Civil Service and Law the Subjects.

The program of lectures at Plymouth Congregational church this fall has been completed and is given below. With the exception of the opening attraction, the lectures are by Fort Wayne gentlemen eminently fitted to discuss the subjects upon which they are to speak.

The lecture course opens November 8 and the program follows:

November 8—Rev. J. W. Bailey, D. D., of Topeka, Kan., on "Our Country's Place and Mission as Revealed in Prophesy."

November 22—Alexander Johnson, superintendent of the Indiana School for Feeble Minded Youth, on "State Benevolences."

December 13—Dr. Miles F. Porter, on "The Progress and Results of Modern Surgery."

January 17—Prof. Justin N. Study, superintendent of city schools, on "The Administration of the Public School System."

February 7—Postmaster William D. Page, on "The Evolution of Uncle Sam's Postal Service."

March 7—Judge Robert S. Taylor, on "Law, the Noblest Work of Man."

Two musical selections by the best local artists will precede each lecture. Following are on the course:

Soloists—Mrs. William Miles, Mrs. Sam Moffat, Miss Elsie Johnson, Miss Nellie Lawson, Miss A. Lillian Schrader, Miss Gill, Oliver A. Phelps.

Quartets—The Haydn quartet, the Apollo quartet.

Violinists—Miss Ethel Mossman, Anton Sporl, H. G. Patton.

IN JUSTICES' COURTS.

"The Greely street chicken fight," which has been dodging around the justices' courts for nearly two weeks, was yesterday postponed indefinitely by Justice Bullermann.

This afternoon Justice Bullermann is presiding at an inquest of lunacy at which the sanity of three persons will be determined. The patients are John Harrold, Charles Richarden and George Lenhard, all inmates of the infirmary at the county farm. They have not been committed there as insane patients and under the circumstances the superintendent has no legal right to place them under restraint, although they really require it. The attending physician in the commission is Dr. Enslen and the examining physicians will be Drs. MacBeth and Culp.

Justice Tancey last evening performed the marriage ceremony which united Nathaniel E. M. Kidd and Dora D. Hilyard, both residents of this city. The ceremony was performed promptly at 5 o'clock and what most persons at that time mistook for a military salute was simply the echo of the justice kissing the bride.

No Cause for Great Alarm.

While by the use of large and powerful telescopes the scientists are pointing out to us bright and flaming spots on the sun, they have in no way proved that this phenomenon has anything to do with the final dissolution of the world, as many nervous people are trying to suppose. But science has demonstrated that pale, congested spots on the liver are cause for grave and very serious thought. Are you sleepy after meals, with dull headache, pains in the side, nervous, moody and depressed? These are symptoms of a disordered liver, and a stoppage of the gall bladder, causing a constipated condition of the bowels. If you have any of the above symptoms try Peptorene, the Health Tablet. This pure, simple and safe remedy is working wonders in the cure of all kinds of liver troubles. Peptorene is manufactured by the Battle Creek Health Tablet Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich. 25c per box. Write for free trial treatment.

Sold by Meyer Bros.'s & Co., Pellens & Polster, A. C. Gocke and Wm. L. Waltemath.

The marriage of Miss Martha Raquet and Victor H. Kemp, mentioned in The Sentinel last evening, will be solemnized at St. Paul's church on Barr street Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, instead of at the bride's residence. Rev. Jacob Miller will officiate.

And they want a good druggist who knows his business to investigate its great medicinal properties and be able to talk intelligently as to its strength-giving power.

A member of this firm is mighty enthusiastic on the subject. He says: "I'll guarantee it every time to clean out the blood and give strength." It's a great tonic, and say, for rheumatism, it can't be beat.

LAW TAKES LIFE OF THE ASSASSIN

Leon Czolgosz Dies in Electric Chair in Auburn Prison for Murder of President McKinley.

Firmly He Approached His Doom and Died Without Repentance---Autopsy Shows That the Brain of the Assassin Was Normal---Family Hears News in Cleveland.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 29.—At 7:12½ o'clock this morning Leon Czolgosz, murderer of President William McKinley, paid the extreme penalty exacted by the law for his crime. He was shocked to death by 1,700 volts of electricity. He went to the chair in exactly the same manner as have the majority of murderers in this state, showing no particular sign of fear, but, in fact, doing what few of them have done—talking to the witnesses while he was being strapped in the chair.

"I killed the president because he was an enemy of the good people—of the good working people. I am not sorry for my crime."

These were his words as the guards hurried him into the chair.

A moment later, mumbling through the half adjusted face straps, he said:

"I am awfully sorry I could not see my father."

SLEPT SOUNDLY.

Czolgosz retired last night at 10 o'clock and slept so soundly that when Warden Meade went to the cell shortly before 5 o'clock this morning the guard inside had to shake Czolgosz to awaken him. He sat up on the edge of his cot and made no reply to the warden's greeting of "good morning."

"He will be down presently."

Then the condemned man rolled over on his cot, apparently anxious to sleep again.

At 5 o'clock, however, the guard brought to him a pair of dark trousers, with the left leg slit so as to allow the free application of the electrode, and a light gray outing shirt.

He was told to get up and put these on, which he did.

Contrary to the usual custom, he was given a new pair of shoes. When dressed he laid down on the cot again and in this attitude Superintendent Collins found him at 5:30 when he went to visit him.

WANTED AN AUDIENCE.

The superintendent stood in front of the steel bars and when the guard had called Czolgosz's attention, he said:

"I wish to make a statement before you kill me."

"What do you wish to say, Czolgosz?" asked the superintendent.

"I want to make it when there are a lot of people. I want them to hear me," said the prisoner.

"Well, you cannot," said the superintendent.

"Then I won't talk at all," said the prisoner, sullenly.

LEON CZOLGOSZ.

After the superintendent had left Meade, and at 7:08 the procession passed to the death chamber, going through the long south corridor.

In the chamber Electrician Davis and Former Warden Thayer, of Dannemora, had arranged the chair test.

SPEAKS TO WITNESSES.

The witnesses were ordered seated and then Warden Meade briefly advised the guards brought Czolgosz's breakfast, consisting of coffee, toast, eggs and bacon, and he ate with quite a good deal of relish. While he was partaking of this the witnesses were gathering in the offices of Warden dressed them, saying:

"You are here to witness the legal death of Leon F. Czolgosz. I desire that you keep your seats and preserve absolute silence in the death chamber, no matter what may transpire. There are plenty of guards and prison officials to preserve order and attend to the proper details."

The prison physician, Dr. Gerin, and Dr. Carlos F. McDonald, of New York, took a position to the left of the chair, Warden Meade stood directly in front and Electrician Davis retired to the little room containing the electric switchboard.

Thayer gave the signal and the current was turned through the electric lights, flooding the chamber with brilliant light and dramatically showing the power that was used to kill the prisoner.

IN THE DEATH CHAMBER.

Warden Meade gave the signal to have the prisoner brought in and at 7:10½ o'clock Chief Keeper Tupper swung open the big steel door leading to the condemned cells, and as the steel bars behind which Czolgosz had been kept were swung aside two guards marched the prisoner out into the corridor, two others following and the chief keeper walking in front.

The guards on either side of Czolgosz had hold of his arms as if either to support him or to keep him from making a demonstration. As he stepped over the threshold he stumbled, but they held him up and as they urged him forward toward the chair he stumbled again on the little rubber covered platform upon which the chair rests. His head was erect and with his gray flannel shirt turned back at the neck he looked quite boyish. He was intensely pale and as he tried to throw his head back and carry himself erect his chin quivered very perceptibly.

As he was being seated he looked about at the assembled witnesses with quite a steady stare and said: "I killed the president because he was an enemy of the good people—of the working people."

NOT SORRY FOR HIS CRIME.

His voice trembled slightly at first, but gained strength with each word, and he spoke perfect English. "I am not sorry for my crime," he said, just as the guard pushed his head back on the rubber head rest and drew the straps across his forehead and chin. As the pressure on the straps tightened and bound the jaws tightly, he mumbled: "I am awfully sorry I could not see my father."

It was just exactly 7:11 o'clock when he crossed the threshold, but a minute had elapsed and he had just finished the last statement when the strapping was completed and the guards stepped back.

Warden Meade raised his hand and at 7:12:30 Electrician Davis turned the switch that threw 1,700 volts of electricity into the living body.

THE BODY WRITHES.

The rush of the current threw the body back so that the straps cracked perceptibly. The hands clenched suddenly and the whole attitude was one of extreme tenseness. For forty-five seconds the full current was kept on and then slowly the electrician threw the switch back, reducing the current volt by volt until it was cut off entirely. Then just as it had reached that point he threw the lever back again for two or three seconds. The body, which had collapsed as the current reduced, stiffened up again against the straps. When it was turned off again Dr. MacDonald stepped to the chair and put his hand over the heart. He said he felt no pulsation, but suggested that the current be turned on for a few seconds again. Once more the body became rigid. At 7:15 the current was turned off for good.

THE SCENE WAS BRIEF.

From the time Czolgosz had left his cell until the full penalty was paid less than four minutes had elapsed. The physicians present used the stethoscope and other tests to determine if any life remained, and at 7:15 o'clock the warden, raising his hand, announced: "Gentlemen, the prisoner is dead."

The witnesses filed from the chamber, many of them visibly affected, and the body was taken from the chair and laid on the operating table.

When the body of Czolgosz had been removed from the room where he was killed to the autopsy table, Auburn prison returned to the routine of its ordinary life. The prisoners, who had been kept locked in their cells, were released at 7:45 o'clock and prison work was resumed at once.

There was no excitement among the convicts. Scarcely a hundred people had gathered outside the prison gate to watch the witnesses enter and wait until they reappeared. The witnesses dispersed quickly, some of them leaving for their homes as early as 9 o'clock.

COOL UNDER FIRE

SCHLEY STILL ON THE STAND

CROSS-EXAMINATION HAS A WIDE RANGE.

HE JUSTIFIES HIS ACTIONS

GIVES REASONS FOR MAKING WESTWARD MOVEMENT.

Washington, Oct. 29.— Judge Advocate Lemly lost no time in beginning his interrogations of Admiral Schley after the Schley court of inquiry convened at 11 o'clock today. When the court adjourned yesterday he was still questioning with reference to the cruise from Cienfuegos to Santiago, and he resumed today where he had left off yesterday, asking a number of questions relating to the condition of the weather on May 25 and 26, the dates of the voyage.

He also reverted to the detaching of the Eagle from the flying squadron and brought the witness to the consideration of several other minor details of that movement before coming to the meeting with the scout boats twenty-five miles south of Santiago on the evening of May 26, when the retrograde movement toward Key West in search of coal was begun.

The intention was to go into this retrograde movement later in the day and also to consider in minute detail the reconnoisance of May 31, the coaling question and the famous loop of the Brooklyn on July 3.

Captain Lemly was hopeful of completing his questioning today, but admitted that the outlook in that direction was not altogether promising. As on yesterday, Admiral Schley was calm in his demeanor and deliberate in his answers, apparently weighing all questions carefully before replying. On cross-examination he does not raise his voice as high as he did in his original statement, and as a consequence what he says is not heard throughout the court room. Before resuming the cross-examination of Admiral Schley Judge Advocate Lemly announced that with the assent of counsel for the other side the signal books of the New York for May 18 and 19 and July 2 and 3, and the Brooklyn's for May 18 to June 2, inclusive, and July 2 and 3, would be included in the record. He explained that May 18 and 19 were the day before and the day of which the New York left Key West. The first question the judge advocate asked was in connection with Admiral Schley's examination in chief regarding the meeting with the Eagle after the flying squadron left Key West.

CAUSED A STIR.

Judge Advocate Lemly's questions followed no regular sequence in relation to events as they transpired from day to day, but jumped from point to point and then back again in seeming confusion. In course of the examination he asked Admiral Schley this question:

"Had Cervera's fleet appeared during the nights you were at Cienfuegos, either coming out or coming in from seaward, what, under your instructions, would your fleet have done?"

"Knocked them out," replied Admiral Schley, the response causing a stir in the court room.

Captain Lemly devoted much attention to the question of coaling and referred frequently to log and signal books.

THE WESTWARD MOVEMENT.

Captain Lemly then prosecuted his cross-questioning along lines relating to the retrograde movement, in course of which he asked this question:

"In yur testimony, you say that you did not disobey orders when you started westward because you returned to your station without further direction. Am I right?".

"Yes."

"Upon receipt of the instructions, did you not, nevertheless, leave your station?'

"Yes, I did for these reasons: First, because Captain Sigsbee, a scout placed in front of Santiago harbor, informed me that he did not believe the Spanish fleet was there. Second, because Nunez, the pilot, told me he did not believe the enemy's fleet could enter the harbor. Third, the order No. 7, with the accompanying memorandum in which Admiral Sampson minimized the importance of this squadron being there and the fact that the department's telegram, which reached me on May 27, was so ambiguous in its terms. It authorized me to coal at Gonavies, Hayti, or at Cape Cruz. Gonavies being the eastward, and knowing that Admiral Sampson was at Key Francis, in the Bahama channel, to the north, it occurred to me that if the Spanish squadron were extant that the proper stragetical move was to go to the westward and not to the eastward. I was authorized in the same telegram to move as far west as Cape Cruz, provided coaling had been found possible there.

THE INFLUENCING MOTIVES.

"I did not go to Cape Cruz within eighty miles, I think. Now these were the influencing and the operating motives: I felt that the move westward was stragetically the proper one, with a determination to coal as quickly as possible, and that the efficiency of my squadron as a unit was only equal to the efficiency of the coal supply of the slowest one that composed it. Those are the motives which caused that movement. The ambiguity of the telegram from the department, I think, is manifest almost at once, because it states first, specifically, that all the department's information indicated so and so—that is, the Spanish fleet was still at Santiago. It pointed out a place which at that time was not accessible, and lastly, it looked to me to determine and report whether the enemy was in port or not. Those were the influencing motives."

Captain Lemly: "And you were satisfied with those, without taking any steps whatever to ascertain if this order of these reports were correct?"

"I ascertained for myself through the medium that the department had placed there to keep me informed. Those scouts represented very largely the cavalry of the army and if they were unreliable they should not have been placed there. I must have relied upon what they said."

LOUISIANA RACE RIOT IS BELIEVED AT AN END.

Order to Militia to Go to Ball Town is Countermanded---Fourteen Reported Dead.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 29.—It is now believed that the riot between negroes and whites at Ball Town is ended, as a telegram was received from Governor Heard at 8:30 this morning countermanding the instructions to General Glenn to send troops to Ball Town. A company of the Louisiana field artillery and a troop of cavalry had been held in readiness all night and were about to leave for the scene of trouble when the governor's telegram came indicating that there is no necessity for the presence of the militia.

The first news of the race riot was brought here yesterday by Cornelius Mixon, who, with his mother, left from near Franklington in the morning. He stated that white men rode into Franklington at 2 o'clock yesterday morning asking for help, saying that the negroes were up in arms, threatening to exterminate the whites. The scene of the trouble is at or near Ball Town, where a negro was burned last week for criminally assaulting a white woman. This was not the cause, however, of the murders Sunday, in which three white men and eleven negroes were killed and several wounded. Mr. Mixon saw and talked with many men from the scene, and they said more and worse trouble was expected, as armed men were flocking to the scene, and it was reported the blacks were equally active in preparing for a battle.

STRUCK BY A STREET CAR.

Estella Bakoffen, a little girl living on Grand street, was struck by Hanna street car No. 111 Monday afternoon while attempting to cross Wallace street, near Calhoun. The little girl was knocked down, and as she expressed it, pretty badly "bumped," but she was not seriously injured. After the accident she managed to limp home unassisted and no blame is attached to the motorman.

THE STATE'S STAR WITNESS CALLED

Marie Sampleson Placed on Stand in the Dunn Murder Trial This Afternoon.

GIRL'S TESTIMONY IS STRIKING

Marie Sampleson, who has been popularly regarded at least as the state's star witness in the Dunn murder trial, was placed on the stand this afternoon and began the recital of testimony that in many respects is the most interesting yet submitted to the jury.

Del Reed, who with Miss Sampleson has been held in jail in default of bond for their appearance at this trial since July 9 last, was brought into court when Miss Sampleson made her appearance. He will doubtless follow her on the witness stand.

Miss Sampleson was domestic in Dunn's household at the time Alice Cothrell disappeared.

Today is the seventh day of the Dunn case, and testimony during the morning hours came in somewhat slowly. There were occasional waits for the appearance of witnesses and for the consultation of attorneys, but Judge O'Rourke has from the first shown an evident desire to expedite the case as rapidly as is consistent with absolute fairness, and does not tolerate unnecessary delays.

Perhaps the most important testimony of the morning was that given by Dr. Albert H. MacBeth, city health commissioner, who was present at the second post mortem examination upon the remains of little Alice Cothrell, and who subsequently made a number of microscopic examinations in connection with the case.

Several witnesses, among them Dr. W. W. Barnett, the coroner, were recalled by the state today, and answered inquiries in addition to those brought out at previous examinations. The state may not be able to close its side of the testimony today, but the end is not far off.

Attorney Colerick stated at noon that he believed about two days would be required to submit the evidence upon the part of the defense. It is expected that during this time Mr. Dunn will take the witness stand in his own behalf.

OPENING OF COURT.

Early arrivals had completely filled the spectators' section of the court room even before court opened this morning, and previous to the resumption of the Dunn case a number of routine matters of court business received attention. It was 9:03 when the jurors filed into their seats. There was some delay waiting the arrival of attorneys before the first witness of the day was called, and during this time Dunn sat in conversation, first with Mr. Morris and later with Detective Mahan.

MR. RYAN RECALLED.

Deputy Sheriff John Ryan was recalled to the witness stand, and on the re-examination by Judge Hench witness said he, in company with Edward Cothrell, had started from rear of Dunn's premises, went north through alley, turned west and reached the road leading from Wallen, passed along over the route presumably taken by Dunn on day he left Cothrell and Reed on the log wagons. Witness said fifty-one minutes were required to walk from Wallen to the point where Dunn left the wagons to go to Wallen about noon, July 2.

Counsel for defense objected to the inquiries and answers, citing as reasons that the testimony was incompetent and irrelevant, failing to show that the route was the same as that taken by Dunn, and that defendant was not present. Overruled.

MRS. COTHRELL RECALLED.

When witness took the stand defense objected to the recalling of Mrs. Cothrell on the ground that objection was made on first day to recalling witnesses, and that leaving important after-testimony till the last was unfair to defendant. The court overruled the objection, and defense filed exception.

When Judge Hench asked witness if she had called at Dunn's house Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, while Dunn was eating dinner, witness said she went there at 2 o'clock, but did not see Dunn.

Witness said Dunn had not told her to search every place in Wallen, as a previous witness had said Dunn told him. Witness had never told Dunn she had whipped her daughter Alice.

During the entire course of Mrs. Cothrell's examination there was almost invariable objection upon the part of the defense.

Witness testified that she had never between July 2 and time daughter was found in cistern stated to Dunn that she wished her daughter was dead; never stated so to him prior to July 2; never made such a statement to any person in Dunn's presence at any time.

Never stated to Dunn that when Alice came back she would give her a good thrashing; nor did he say that was the trouble; had thrashed her too much already.

MR. COTHRELL RECALLED.

Examined by Judge Hench, witness said he did not go to defendant's house July 2, while defendant was eating dinner.

Questioned by Mr. Colerick, Mr. Cothrell detailed his whereabouts at various times during the day of July 2.

The recalling of the Cothrells by the state was evidently for the purpose of refuting the alleged statement of Dunn, sworn to by Mr. Bleke, to the effect that Dunn told him the Cothrells had come to his house while he was eating dinner July 2 to inquire for Alice.

Lieut. J. B. Fonner was the next witness; live in Fort Wayne; stenographer; was at Wallen July 2, at house formerly occupied by Dunn; saw cistern there; it was in kitchen at the rear. Witness told of coverings over cistern. Witness assisted in taking measurements of openings; opening in floor was 16 by 22¼ inches; second opening was 13 by 22 inches; two openings were not directly in line; straight line dropped to get dimensions of hole in clear showed it 16½ inches long by 10 inches at one end and 12 inches at the other.

Cross-examined, witness said long way of upper opening was east and west; lower opening angled to the southwest to best of witness' recollection; lower opening projected in part beyond the floor line above it.

EXPERT TESTIMONY.

Dr. A. H. Macbeth, commissioner of health, was called to the witness stand; live on East Wayne street; am a practicing physician; engaged in practice since May, 1892. Was at Wallen when second post mortem examination was made of body of Alice Cothrell; went with Dr. Barnett; met Dr. Rosenthal and Dr. Greenawalt; first went to Dunn's residence and inspected premises; then went to the house where girl's body lay. They made a second post mortem of a number of the organs, but not of the entire body. I was present at the entire examination. Witness gave considerable testimony in answer to questions proposed by prosecution to show an assault or attempt to assault

UNCOMMON WISDOM

SOME FORT WAYNE PEOPLE PROFIT BY NEIGHBOR'S EXPERIENCE.

It's a wise man who profits by the experience of his friends and neighbors. Here is a chance to do it, and every man, woman or child in Fort Wayne who knows the misery of a bad back, the nervousness and restlessness caused by kidney complaint or the annoyance of urinary disorders, will show uncommon wisdom to profit by this citizen's advice.

Mr. William Steller, of 221 West Superior street, says: "I was broken down in health for four years, and although my kidneys were only one of the things that helped to make me ill, they caused me enough suffering to make any man think that life was not worth living. The greatest pain I felt from them was in my head, and this, in addition to the backache, nearly drove me crazy. The kidney secretions were highly colored and other symptoms of disordered kidneys existed. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Meyer & Co.'s drug store, and they did me a world of good. They were the only remedy that relieved me and at the same time did not leave any harmful after-effect."

had been made, Dr. Greenawalt gave witness some blood and mucus for examination. Neck had appearance of being rather large at the base; thyroid glands, one slightly enlarged, but not to extent that would cause alarm; this is often seen. Organs were enlarged; saw Dr. Rosenthal remove hyoid bone; tissues were apparently anaemic—had lack of blood; cornuas of hyoid bone were not alike; left cornua was bent toward the median line about half an inch, necessarily the result of pressure or force; might require considerable force, and pressure would have to be from both sides.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN CHOKED.

Would hardly call left cornua a fracture, although ligaments were broken.they would have to be broken to bend it that way; condition could have been brought about by compression with hands about neck; compression could not have existed long without causing death; pressure would necessarily have to be bilateral to produce those conditions.

On the cross-examination by Mr. Colerick witness said seeping did not come from the abrasions; seeping would stop very soon after death; would not expect an exudation more than four days after death. To create a fracture of left cornua of hyoid bone in a young child less effort would be required than in a middle-aged person. Ossification of hyoid bone is supposed to be complete at from 20 to 25 years of age. If force was applied to the neck by a hand pressure would have to be nearly equal on either side to produce fracture.

Witness said if he had a case in which strangulation was suspected, would first look for exterior indicia asupon neck. Echymosis of throat externally appears in cases of strangulation, usually soon after death; would remain to some extent until putrefaction set in. Impression of fingers and hand would not remain.

REFERRED TO AUTHORITIES.

Mr. Colerick referred to a large number of medical authorities in attempt to show that after death discoloration would remain; witness assented to this, but said finger prints would not remain. Dr. MacBeth was questioned as to scratches, abrasions, bruises, etc., on the body; discoloration of neck or face externally. None were observed by witness except those already mentioned by other physicians—bruises on arm and leg. Witness said conditions of throat after death and removal from water would not be abnormal save for anaemic conditions.

If a body were immersed in water very cold, remaining five days, water would have a tendency to soften the glands of the throat.

Mr. Colerick asked if it was not laid down by authorities that in cases of drowning where body went into water in cases of unconsciousness no froth or bloody mucous would be discharged after death, but where one went into water in life, probably rising and sinking again, is the condition in which a frothy, blubbery mucous, tinged with blood, would appear. Witness assented, and in response to Mr. Colerick's question said it might be regarded as a test of drowning—that in one case mucous would appear; in the other it was not likely to appear.

Witness said he had made a microscopic examination of matter taken from body of the girl and found nothing improper there.

MINUTE EXAMINATION.

On the re-direct examination, Dr. Macbeth said there were several indentations on the tongue made by impressions of the teeth. In case of death by drowning, one would expect to find water in the throat and trachea. When means outlined by Mr. Emerick were used to expel water from lungs and none were found, it would indicate that death was not caused by drowning.

Much of the examination of Dr. MacBeth, both on direct and cross-examination, was of the character that cannot properly be given in a newspaper.

DR. BARNETT RECALLED

Coroner Barnett was recalled to the witness stand, and Judge Hench's first question was in reference to the method of proceedure in removing the clothing from the body of the dead girl.

Defense entered an objection on the ground that witness had once before covered these matters thoroughly. The objection was overruled by Judge O'Rourke, and the defense filed an exception.

Dr. Barnett then told how clothing was first laid back, and after the post mortem it was removed and placed in a paper sack; witness then took package to his office and placed it in his safe.

There was minute questioning regarding buttons, buttonholes and fastenings of the under garments. Witness said that at first observation neither center button nor left side of under garment was buttoned; left lapel lay down; right side was buttoned.

Louis Beitzell was the last witness called before the noon adjournment. Witness said he was twenty-six years old and had lived in Allen county all his life; was present at Wallen Friday of first week in July with Huguenard and others. Heard Dunn say he commenced searching for Alice Cothrell at 2 o'clock July 2, the day she was first missing. Witness heard that the girl was missing Wednesday morning.

On re-direct examination, witness stated that there was no likelihood of finding spermatozoa in this case; that he so informed Dr. Greenawalt; that it was too long after death.

CROWDED WITH LADIES.

More than fifty ladies from the audience did not leave the room during the noon hour, but remained in their seats in the expectation, no doubt, of seeing Marie Sampleson, who, it had been whispered, was to be placed upon the witness stand this afternoon. There are 108 seats in the audience section of the court room, and practically all of these were occupied by ladies when court opened. Behind the seats stood other ladies and many male spectators.

Marie Sampleson, with Mrs. Stout, and "Del" Reed in charge of Deputy Sheriff Huguenard, walked down from the jail together, and were kept for a short time in the witness room before they were called to testify.

Reed entered the room with Deputy Sheriff Huguenard, stood for a moment at the door, then taking a seat on the witness stand.

STATE'S STAR WITNESS.

After being sworn, witness said her name was Estella Marie Sampleson; 17 years old; born in New York, but could not give the name of the town; was going on 4 years old when she left New York for Chicago, going with parents. Father is living; mother died July 23, 1899; father is a stone mason in Chicago, don't know what part of the city. Two children left when mother died. Soon after mother's death witness went to Chicago Industrial home; remained there about six months; then went to Mr. Rivir's at Harvard, Ill.; sent me there from home; after a time there went back to the home at Woodstock, Ill. Three months later came to Mr. Knepper's in Aboit township, Allen county. They sent for me. Then went to Wm. Vought's in Aboit township; lived there two months. Then went to Eugene Kane's, in Aboit township; lived with him until last Christmas. Then went to Mr. Fleckenstein's at 4 Riverside avenue; there over a month; then went to Charles Dunn's. He lived on Riverside avenue then. It was Feb. 10 that I went there. Went with them to Wallen and remained with them. Am single; never married. Have known Dunn since I worked for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, Delph Reed and I composed the family. Mr. Dunn has one son; witness pointed him out in court room. Think he was there in June to visit. Did not see him there on week Alice Cothrell was missed.

Heard that Alice Cothrell was missing at 7 o'clock in the evening; Edna Cothrell gave me the information. Dunn was at home on that day and was at home night before. He and Mrs. Dunn were there morning of July 2. We all had breakfast. Remember Dunn leaving house that morning. Mr. Cothrell and Dell Reed were his teamsters. I saw them start away about 7 o'clock. I was in the woodshed; they went west. That morning Mrs. Cothrell and Edna came to get water; Mr. Dunn assisted them in getting water from cistern; they took the water home. Dunn had not yet gone away.

Walter Haire lives south of Dunn's; he has a daughter named Hettie; Mains' house is north. I went to Haire house about 1 o'clock in the afternoon to take some bread; I had borrowed some. Had been washing and baking bread that day. Stayed at Haire's but a few minutes and talked to Hettie. Spoke to her about getting water. Went back to Dunn's house and got a pail from the woodshed; Alice Cothrell was in the house when I went to Haire's the first time; she had come in about 1 o'clock. She had been in house but a few minutes till I left.

Took pail and went to Haire's after water; Clayte Haire gave me the water—got it at Huguenard's; we divided what was in his pail. Talked to Hettie Haire while standing on porch. Hettie took balance of water in house and I returned to Dunn's.

As I returned from Haire's the first time Alice Cothrell was leaning in the dining room window of Dunn's; when I got inside the dining room I saw Alice and she went out ahead of me to woodshed. Cistern was open then.

ALICE LEFT THE HOUSE.

Alice went down the walk and out in alley. I saw her from the door. Fell that I got stood just inside the door. She went north as she passed into alley.

Washing then stood by the door inside house. I was absent just a few minutes after water; Mrs. Cothrell was there about 2 or 3 o'clock in the afternoon to get water. Mrs. Dunn and I had eaten dinner that day just before 1 o'clock. Dunn had not had his dinner before Mrs. Cothrell drew rainwater in the afternoon. I was at work at clothes when she came; I had drawn two pails for my bluing water.

HEARD A SCREAM.

As I passed from Haire's residence to Dunn's second time I heard someone scream twice; I was about half way between houses. Entered dining room door and met Mrs. Dunn, she had been in bedroom. She asked me if I was hurt; I told her no. Asked me if I heard any screams. I told her yes. I went to woodshed door and looked out to see if I could see anything. Screams seemed to have come from north.

Windows in Mrs. Dunn's room face north; in kitchen windows face west.

Did not see Alice Cothrell when I got back to house second time. When I went to north woodshed door did not see anybody; afterwards went to the door and looked north; saw Mr. Dunn looking out of horse barn door near sawmill. He stepped out at that door and entered the door to the right. First door faced sawmill.

Mrs. H. S. Wagstaff, President Kansas City, Mo., Blue Ribbon Club, Tells How She was Cured of Severe Bearing-Down Pains, Backache, etc., by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—After suffering for months with a complication of female troubles, causing severe bearing-down pains and backache, feeling constantly fatigued and unable to stand up without great weariness, great relief came to me when a friend advised me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did. It was worth more to me than all other medicines I ever tried, which only seemed to poison my system, while your Compound healed me. I took your pills in connection, and they seemed to help cast the poison and waste matter out of the system. I used the Compound for six weeks and was then completely cured, and while this was eighteen months ago I have had no relapse, but have enjoyed the best of health ever since. I wish that every poor dragged-down, suffering woman might know that it would bring them health to consult you and use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I always do what I can to tell them of it." —MRS. H. S. WAGSTAFF, 1330 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

The People's Store.

Miss Bertha Kenlin will leave for Greencastle Wednesday morning to attend a Hallowe'en party given by the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity of De-Pauw.

Try The Sentinel Want Column.

THE HOSE ARE LIKE A GOOD PLAY. MOST PEOPLE WANT A BOX.

NEARLY EVERY DAY OPENS ON SOME NEW BARGAIN AT OUR STORE. SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY OF HOSE.

Good Morning Ladies!

We do not want to keep you from your work, but now that your husband has gone for the day and the children are in school, we want to talk just a moment about your husband's half hose. You bought his last ones, didn't you? You came down town just like any other woman would do—you went straight to a dry goods store, didn't you? Perhaps you never stopped to think that a store like ours, with an immense stock of Men's Furnishing Goods would have what you were after. Well, we have. We know your husband has not found any fault with those you have bought. But we want to make you solid with him on that question. We want him to think that you have forgotten more about men's half hose than he ever knew, so we are going to ask you to buy his next ones of us. We have just received 400 dozen men's half hose in black, tan, "white foot" and fancy. They are guaranteed absolutely stainless and we will give you two pair instead of one for 25c. You'll come and see them—won't you?

REUBEN S. PATTERSON.

HALF HOSE—HALF PRICE. ONE-HALF AND THEN THE OTHER HALF OF THE MEN SHOULD WEAR THEM.

WHETHER A MAN DOES RIGHT OR WRONG, OUR HALF HOSE SEEM TO BE AT THE BOTTOM OF HIS ACTIONS.

By the title, "Under the Equator," Mrs. Torrence is giving a most interesting narrative of life in South America, where, with her husband, she resided a considerable period. The article is very beautifully illustrated with drawings by Mrs. Torrence.

Lost Hair

It's risky, this losing of the hair. You may not get it back again. When the hair first begins to fall out use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It will stop the falling and will make new hair come in. And it always restores color to gray hair.

"My hair came out badly and was fast turning gray. I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. It stopped my hair from coming out and completely restored the color." Mrs. M. D. Gray, North Salem, Mass.

MANAGER HEILBRONER HERE.

Among the distinguished passengers which the early eastbound Wabash train landed in this morning was Col. Louis Heilbroner. Louie says he don't know where or how he got his title, but since he has it he wouldn't sell it for less than a fortune. Mr. Heilbroner was the business manager of the St. Louis base ball club this season and represented the Robisons all the way through, as he has for several seasons, and says the season just closed was the most successful from a financial point of view his employers have ever had. He is home to visit father and sister, as well as his many friends, and does not know how long he will remain here. He has closed his St. Louis office for the season and may make Fort Wayne his headquarters all winter. He will be with the Robisons again next year.

A DAILY NUISANCE.

In its earlier stages catarrh is more of a nuisance than a menace to the general health, but sooner or later, the disease extends to the throat, bronchial tubes and even to the stomach and intestines.

of mucous, stoppage of the nostrils, irritation in throat, causing coughing, sneezing, gagging and frequent clearings of the throat and head.

The usual treatment by local douches, snuffs, salves, etc., often gives temporary relief, but anything like a cure can only be obtained by a treatment which removes the catarrhal taint from the blood and the disappearance of the inflammation from the mucous surfaces.

A new remedy which meets these requirements and which so far has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh, is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

These tablets act upon the blood and mucous membranes only. They can hardly be called a secret patent medicine as they are composed of such valuable remedies as Sanguinaria, Hydrastin, Eucalyptol and similar cleansing antiseptics which cure by eliminating from the blood and mucous surfaces the catarrhal poison.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges taken internally, allowing them to dissolve slowly in the mouth, in this way they reach the throat, fauces and the entire ailmentary canal.

If desired, they may also be dissolved in water and used as a douche, in addition to the internal use, but it is not at all necessary to use a douche; a few of them dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. However, when there is much stoppage of the nose, a douche made from these tablets will give immediate relief, but the regular daily use internally of these tablets will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of the douche.

Dr. Bement states "that the internal treatment for catarrh is rapidly taking the place of the old plan of douching, and local application, and further says that probably the best and certainly the safest remedy at present on the market is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as no secret is made of their composition and all the really efficient remedies for catarrh are contained in this tablet."

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at fifty cents for full sized packages. Ask your druggist and if he is honest he will tell you there is no safer, more palatable, more efficient and convenient remedy on the market.

THE FINAL SCENE.

The curtain has been rung down on the final scene of our latest great national tragedy. Czolgosz, assassin of the president, has paid the penalty inexorable justice demanded. For the life he took his life has been taken. The death of the murderer but poorly balances the stupendous loss he inflicted upon the nation, and if that were the only light in which the crime and its punishment could be looked at there would be little satisfaction in the view.

It is in the stern but full requittal of justice that the public mind must find satisfaction. The assassin was not executed because his victim was president of the United States. Had he taken the life of the humblest citizen in the premeditated manner that he slew the president his fate in all human probability would have been the same. From the moment the law laid its hand on Czolgosz until the moment the law required his life in expiation of his crime Czolgosz was as any other felon might have been. The authority of the state protected him from the vengeance of an angered populace, gave him a decent, dignified and impartial trial, provided him with eminent counsel to safeguard the rights the law vouchsafes to every man accused of crime, secured his conviction by the fixed processes of justice common to every such case, and inflicted the penalty in manner and with circumstance precisely what they would have been had the assassin of the president been the slayer of a ruffian in a brawl.

In one respect the Czolgosz case has been most salutary. There was no opportunity permitted to make a hero of the wretch. The law took him and without denying him a single element of justice, kept him and disposed of him for what he was—a murderer. He was not hurried to conviction nor rushed to his doom. All that the law prescribed for every such case was fulfilled. It furnishes lesson in criminal procedure that must be salutary.

As to the assassin whom the law has slain, there is little to be said. His burial place should be unknown of mankind and his name forgotten. He died with lying bravado glorying in the foulness of his deed, unrepentant, unshrived and unwept. So long as his name shall be remembered of good men it will be as a curse. His crime recoils upon his hateful kind. Public sentiment will soon straight-jacket their insane creed and its propagandists. The assassin raised his arm as he believed against the embodiment of all our law and by the law he has perished.

CHANCE FOR GOOD WORK.

The city council has before it an opportunity to render high service to the people of this city. The council meets tonight in committee of the whole to take up the Harrison street franchise matter. What will be done, if anything, cannot be forecasted. What ought to be done is more easy to state. If the interurban question is worked at along the line of the greatest public good and not along the line of advantage to any special interest the council can bring something like order of the chaotic interurban condition. The city needs the lines, the people want them and they are ready to come. That solution of the problem which best conserves the interests of the city gives greatest encouragement to interurban enterprises and brings the lines into the city and down town with the least sacrifice of streets is the best solution. That sums up the problem which confronts the council. The council can solve it by considering the general question by itself.

The gentleman who informed the board of public works that he had faith in his ability to settle the interurban and other traction disputes should be welcomed to a trial of it. It is a vexed question with many sides to it, and the man who can settle it to the satisfaction of all interested parties, including the people, has it in his power to perform a monumental public service.

The execution of Czolgosz may do something to deter the propagation of anarchy, but other measures must complement the work of the executioner in Auburn prison.

Tonight will be "converts' night" at the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ, when all converts will be present for a special service.

FRANCHISE AT LOGANSPORT

WANTED BY M'KINLEY INTERURBAN SYNDICATE.

Attorney Doughman Perfecting Plans for the Extension of the Southwestern.

The Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company is evidently in deep earnest in its expressed intention of extending its lines from this city to Danville, Ill. The Logansport Reporter says:

"A. N. Dukes, of Peru, and Attorney N. D. Doughman, of Fort Wayne, representing the McKinley syndicate, were in the city Saturday evening for the purpose of consulting with local officials in regard to the granting of a franchise on Erie avenue and Fifth street for the interurban which the syndicate proposes to extend from Fort Wayne to Danville, Ill. Already part of the line is in operation and the McKinley syndicate is engaged in pushing the completion of the work. The representatives say that if given a franchise they will take care of any opposition Mr. Marott may put up. Mr. McKinley will visit the city this evening and it is understood that there will be no trouble in convincing the council that the syndicate means business and is not at all alarmed about the likelihood of finding the street car franchise a serious obstacle. If somebody will kindly step in and take a fight off the city's hands by voiding the street railway franchise little objection will be made. In any event, the anxiety of competing lines to secure an entrance here is a favorable indication that Logansport is soon to have trolley lines."

HIS WIFE FOLLOWED HIM.

On Sunday evening a well-known business man of South Whitley came to Fort Wayne, arriving on the 7:50 train over the Nickel Plate. On the same train this gentleman's wife was a passenger, but the aforesaid business man did not know that. When the train stopped the man left it and took a course due north, and shortly after landed at Miss Mack's establishment. The wife followed, but did not go in; she took what she thought was a wiser course and returned up town and sent a messenger for her husband. The proprietress told the messenger that the man inquired for was not there, and wanted to know who had sent him. The messenger was on to his job and did not say; in fact said he did not know and went away. The messenger in turn was followed by an emissary from the Mack establishment, and when it was learned that the party who wanted to see the business man was no one else than his wife there was consternation in the Mack camp—consternation that could not have been suppressed by the militia. The wife took the first train home and the man followed yesterday. What occurred yesterday at the South Whitley home will probably never be publicly known.

DR. EVANS WILL LECTURE.

Dr. W. A. Evans, of Chicago, a pathologist of national fame, will lecture this evening before the members of the Allen County Medical society in the assembly room of the court house. His subject will be "Fat Necrosis Associated With Gall Stones." The topic is one of the newest in medical science and the address will be of unusual interest. A synopsis of the evening's program has been printed and copies have been sent to members. After the address the members of the society will have an opportunity of meeting Dr. Evans at the home of the president of the medical society, Dr. E. J. McOscar.

THE NEWS OF THE POLICE

There was no police court this morning.

Officer Grote is off duty owing to the death of his mother, which occurred at her home in Marion township.

Nearly two weeks ago a bundle containing two lady's hats was found on the street and turned in at the police station last evening. Miss Troutman, of 208 West Washington street, called at the station and identified the hats as two which had been lost out of a buggy while she was homeward bound with the purchase.

Milk thieves continue to flourish in the south end. Some milk concerns deliver to their customers quite early in the morning and these are usually the sufferers. This morning four complaints were made at police headquarters that bottles containing the day's supply had been stolen before the families to whom they were delivered had arisen.

Some time last night petty thieves stole the heavy rubber cushions under the springs of all of Moran's ice wagons. Large blocks of rubber, weighing several pounds each, are placed under the springs of nearly all heavy trucks, calculated to protect the springs until the load decreases. When the drivers hitched up this morning it was, of course, still dark, and none of them noticed that the wagons had been robbed of the rubbers. The wagons were loaded as usual at the ice houses and one of them, after proceeding some distance, struck a rough pavement and a break-down was the result. An investigation showed that all the rubbers on the wagon were gone and subsequent investigation showed that the other wagons had suffered similarly. The police are investigating.

Rev. Henry Meissner, of Peru, was in the city Monday.

made the following statement to The Associated Press:

"Just consider that within about six weeks from the death of his distinguished victim, Czolgosz was regularly tried, convicted, sentenced and executed, and this despite the fact that the law compelled us to give him four weeks to prepare for death. All has been done in a dignified way and the greatest credit is due to Warden Mead for the care he has taken to strip the case of sensationalism. The execution was one of the most successful ever conducted in the state. Extraordinary care had to be taken in the case because both the warden and I received hundreds of threatening letters, many of them asserting in violent and intemperate language that the prisoner would never be put in the chair.

"I have decided for the present that we will not destroy any of the hundreds of letters written to Czolgosz, the warden and myself as to the case. Eventually they will be destroyed, but it has struck me that perhaps we should make a list of them, and especially of those letters signed with full and proper names, in which condolence was offered to the prisoner or threats against us was made. My plan is to get the addresses of these people and keep the list for police reference.

"I believe they may come a time when such a list would be valuable in running down anarchists. I have decided to bury the body of Czolgosz in the regular prison plot in the local cemetery. The funeral will take place sometime within the next forty-eight hours. We will keep the grave guarded day and night until such time as the quick lime which will be placed around the body shall have entirely destroyed it."

ELECTRICIAN TALKS.

"I used 1,700 volts of electricity, turning it into the body at full voltage for seven seconds and then slowly reducing it for forty-five seconds. Then I threw the full voltage on again for eight seconds. Then, at the suggestion of Dr. MacDonald, I turned it on again for a few seconds. I did not think there was any necessity of the third contact, and the lack of resistance shown when it was administered proved that life was extinct. The body showed eight amperes of resistance. That is a little more than would be given by a larger or stouter man where the current would have more chance to percolate. It was as successful an execution as I have ever operated on in all my experience."

Rev. Cordello Herrick, chaplain of the prison, was in the death chamber ready for any call that might be made for his services. He was not wanted by the prisoner, however, and sat quietly in the rear of the chamber throughout the execution.

BRAIN ABOVE NORMAL.

Naturally almost the entire attention of the physicians assigned to hold the autopsy was directed towards discovering, if possible, whether the assassin was in any way mentally irresponsible. The autopsy was conducted by Dr. Carlos F. MacDonald, E. A. Spitzka and Prison Physician Gerin. The top of the head was sawed off through the thickest part of the skull, which was found to be of normal thickness, and it was the unanimous agreement of the microscopical examination that the brain was normal or slightly above normal. This demonstrated to the satisfaction of the physicians that in no way was Czolgosz's mental condition, except as it might have been perverted, responsible for the crime.

"The autopsy was made by Mr. Edward A. Spitzka, of New York, under the immediate supervision and direction of Dr. Carlos F. MacDonald, of New York, and Dr. John Gerin, prison physician. The autopsy occupied over three hours and embraced a careful examination of all the bodily organs, including the brain. The examination revealed a perfectly healthy state of all the organs, including the brain.

"All of the physicians who attended the electrocution were present at the autopsy and all concurred in the findings of the examiners.

"John Gerin, M. D.
"Carlos F. MacDonald, M. D.
"E. L. Spitzka."

A lengthy technical statement is being prepared and will be issued later in the day. The body was placed in a black-stained pine coffin, every portion of the anatomy being replaced under the supervision of Warden Mead. Shortly afterward it was taken to the prison cemetery and extraordinary precaution taken to completely destroy it.

THE BODY DESTROYED.

A few days ago, under the warden's order, an experiment was made to determine the power of quicklime in the destruction of flesh and bone, which was not satisfactory. Warden Mead, who conferred with those of the physicians present, determined, in conjunction with Superintendent Collins, that the purpose of the law was the destruction of the body and that it was not necessary to use quicklime for that end.

Accordingly, a carboy of acid was obtained and poured upon the body in the coffin after it had been lowered into the grave. Straw was used in the four corners of the grave as the earth was put in to give vent to such gases as might form.

It is the belief of the physicians that the body will be entirely disintegrated within twelve hours. During that time and as long as deemed necessary a guard will be kept over the unmarked grave.

Waldeck Czolgosz and Waldeck Thomas Bandswosky, brother and brother-in-law of the assassin, called at the prison at 2 o'clock this afternoon. They sent word into Warden Mead that they wished to see the body of Leon Czolgosz. The warden told them that the body had been buried for more than an hour and that if they wished he would send a guard to guide them to the grave. They answered that they did not care to go to the cemetery, but that they were anxious to arrange for the collection of the insurance on the life of the dead murderer and asked that a certificate of death be given to them.

The warden promised them a certificate and they departed.

The insurance about which they talked is supposed to be in a fraternal society to which the murderer belonged.

THE ASSASSIN LIED.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 29.—In his interview with Superintendent Collins last night Czolgosz made another explanation of his visit to Chicago just before he went to Buffalo, but later admitted that he had lied. He said that when he reached Chicago a boy, whom he did not know, approached him at the depot and handed him a packet of money. He said the money was for use in the Buffalo trip, but that he never knew who sent it to him or the identity of the lad who delivered it. He then explained that most of the meetings of anarchists that he attended at Cleveland were held in saloons designated by anarchist newspapers.

Half an hour later, when the superintendent called in the brother and brother-in-law of the prisoner, he brought the subject up again and said:

"What money?" asked the prisoner.

"Why, the money you told me about here earlier in the evening," said the superintendent.

"Did I tell you that. I have forgotten it if I did. I did not get any money. If I said it is was not true."

Another demonstration of the many falsehoods told by the prisoner was furnished by Waldeck Czolgosz. He positively assured Warden Mead that his brother Leon could read and write, in direct contradiction of the oft-repeated claim of the prisoner that he was illiterate.

FAMILY GETS THE NEWS.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 29.—Next to the witnesses in the death chamber at Auburn, where Leon Czolgosz's life was shocked out of existence, there were no more interested witnesses to the far away vindication of justice than a little group of men who had gathered in the local office of the Associated Press to learn of the final act early today. This group included the next of kin, the nearest of all human beings to the assassin, his father and two brothers, and half a dozen of his former neighbors in this city.

The same seeming indifference that has characterized the members of the Czolgosz family was maintained to the end, and when the statement that Leon Czolgosz had been put to death was told to the old man in Polish his fingers twitched nervously for a minute or so, a suspicion of a tear was seen to come into his dark eyes and he made a reply in Polish to a friend who acted as interpreter. The old man's statement was to the effect that inasmuch as it had to be it were better that it is all over.

When told of Leon's regret that he had not seen his father, the assassin's parent replied pathetically that had he been asked to go to Auburn he would have done so, but the news from Auburn was never assuring, and the father felt that he was not wanted, hence he remained at home.

The old man said finally that he would not have been a witness to the killing of his son, for the scene would have been too much for his paternal heart.

Other than the suspicion of a tear in the father's eye there was no sign of grief from him, and the two brothers, both younger than Leon, began to ask as to the probable painfulness of the electrocution. The party did not wait to hear details and soon left for their homes, the father of the assassin to his daily work in one of the city's parks, and the two brothers to their respective employments.

WITNESSES OF EXECUTION.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The jury that witnessed the execution of Czolgosz and returned the formal finding in his case was composed as follows:

Foreman, John P. Jaeckel, Auburn; Ashley W. Cole, Albany; H. H. Bender, Albany; Charles R. Skinner, Albany; George Weston, Norwich, N. Y.; D. L. Ingalls, Westfield; H. O. Ely, Binghampton; Charles R. Huntley, Buffalo; Dr. W. A. Howe, Phelps, N. Y.; Dr. G. R. Trowbridge, Buffalo, and John A. Sleicher, New York.

The physicians were: Dr. Carlos A. McDonald, of New York, and Dr. Gerin, of Auburn.

Other witnesses were: H. Bonestreel, Troy; W. D. Wolff, Rochester; C. F. Rattigan, Auburn; George E. R. Peck, Auburn; W. N. Thayer, former warden of Dannemora prison, who assisted Warden Meade, and three newspaper correspondents.

ASSASSIN RESTED WELL.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Czolgosz rested exceedingly well for a man in the shadow of death. It was 4:45 o'clock before he finally woke up and left his cot. His sleep was almost unbroken throughout the night and was restful and refreshing. He did not break his silence when he awoke nor did he show any indication of failing courage. Superintendent Collins and Warden Meade also arose at 4:45 o'clock and their first inquiry was as to the prisoner. They breakfasted early and at once set about to perfect the final details of the execution.

The prisoner was exceedingly quiet during the earlier hours and a few newspaper men who watched in front of the building were long without company. A couple of guards and city policemen watched the streets surrounding the prison, but there was nothing in the line of duty for them to do.

Lights began showing in the main prison at 5 o'clock and within an hour the entire household was astir for the new day. The night had been clear, but cold, and the morning was bright but chilly.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The chamber in which the murderer of President McKinley was executed was not the same in which the first electrocution took place here. It is comparatively a new building, strikingly elaborate in comparison with the very old prison structures about it. It is built of gray stone and is situated about half way down the prison yard on the left hand or south side. Entrance to it is possible either from the prison yard, or from the main south corridor and the execution room proper may be entered without passing the condemned cells.

From the time of his entry into the death house Czolgosz was confined to the cell nearest to the death chamber, so that when he entered the execution room this morning he had only to step a few feet through the stone arch and as the great iron door swung behind him he was beside the electric chair. The execution room has seats for the witnesses and is lighted with several windows placed high in the walls. In one corner of the wall is the closet in which the keyboard is situated, and in which Electrician Davis stood when he switched the current on.

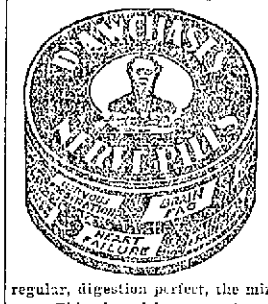
THE PRELIMINARIES.

The preliminaries were exactly like those of every other execution. The witnesses gathered in the office of the warden on the second floor of the prison at a quarter to seven. At a few minutes before 7 the witnesses were told to quickly follow the warden and state superintendent of prisons and after walking through the long corridors took their places silently beside the death chair in the execution room. The iron door leading to the condemned cells was closed, but behind it the warden's assistants were preparing Czolgosz for death. The warden waited until the witnesses were seated, and then made the usual formal declaration that those present in the room were merely there as witnesses to a legal execution of a murderer, and that under no circumstances and no matter what the provocation, no one was to leave his seat or make any disturbance. Electrician Davis then put upon the arms of the chair a bank of twenty-two incandescent electric lights and attaching the electric wires, passed the current through them so that the lights glowed out brightly.

An assistant, in the meantime, put the two electrodes, which were lined with sponges, into pails of salt water, so as to get them wet enough to prevent the current from burning the victim's flesh.

Don't forget that the Winter Term at International Business College, Day and Evening School, begins Monday, November 4th. 2915

THE TOP SCORE EVERY TIME



The reason why Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills reach the great mass of human ills where others fail, is because this phenomenally brilliant physician foresaw the tendency of the age to hurry, to overdo, to overstrain, to neglect of one's self—Realized it meant nerve exhaustion, nerve collapse, and provided a cure—Knew that the first slight symptoms—weariness, disinclination to work, flagging appetite and loss of energy would pass unnoticed—Knew they would grow into a settled depression, mental fogginess, forgetfulness, dull, persistent headaches, impaired digestion, restlessness, nervousness, dizziness, heart irregularities and an inability to sleep—and so construct the Nerve Pills that they meet the situation fully—not by whipping or stimulation, but by the common sense plan of supplying to the nerves and tissues that which folly has robbed them of. Under their splendid re-invigorating power, one rests, one sleeps, the nerves grow quiet and steady, the heart action strong and regular, digestion perfect, the mind clear, and the body strong and vigorous.

This shaped box—no other. Signature and portrait of Dr. A. W. Chase on each box. Price 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Med. Co., 257 Washington St., Buffalo, N. Y.

TESTIMONIAL.

Mrs. John Irwin, of No. 16 Monroe street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "I used to suffere from good, hard nervous sick headaches—headaches that prostrate and leave one nervous. I was advised to use Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and got some at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, No. 14 Calhoun street. The medicine has been a great boon, the headaches are gone and with them the attendent nervousness and depression. I think the Nerve Pills particularly good."

TESTIMONIAL.

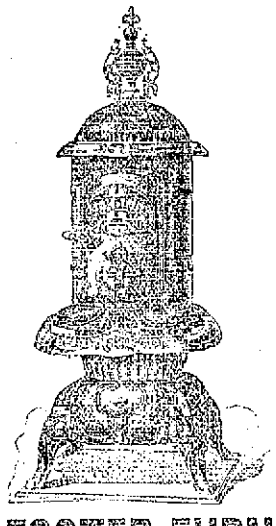
Mr. John Mooney, of No. 186 Lafayette street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a splendid medicine. My heart was very irregular, due to excessive tobacco using. The nervous system itself was profoundly impressed by the tobacco. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got some at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, No. 14 Calhoun street. The medicine so toned up the nervous system and strengthened me that the heart action became steady and strong—something it has not been for a long time. I am greatly pleased with the medicine."

TESTIMONIAL.

Mrs. I. A. Byall, of No. 245 Webster street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills as a cure for nervous sick headaches of a painful and long standing type. The medicine which I got at Meyer Bros. & Co's drug store, No. 14 Calhoun street, was excellent. The headaches disappeared completely and I am more than pleased."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

--A GREAT INVENTION--



A stove that burns Gas, Coal or Wood separately, or all at the same time, without the change or addition of a single plate or piece.

The coal grate is always in position ready for use. Upon it you can burn coal, coke or wood.

The gas burner is also always in position. The burner is so located that it does not interfere with the action of the grate or the burning of coal, coke or wood and cannot be stopped up with coal or wood ashes.

If the gas pressure is a little low you can put in coal, coke or wood and burn either kind of fuel along with the gas. If by reason of accident or other cause the supply of gas is all suddenly shut off you can have a coal, coke or wood fire before the stove has had time to cool.

There is a patent on the device and it can be had only on the Oakdale stove, and we have obtained the sale agency in Fort Wayne. You have only to come in and see it and you would not then buy any other Oak stove and would hardly take any other for a gift. You'll "TOOL YOURSELF" very badly if you buy a heating stove without seeing this one.

You buy all kinds of Stoves and Ranges of us at the same small profits at which we sell Furniture.

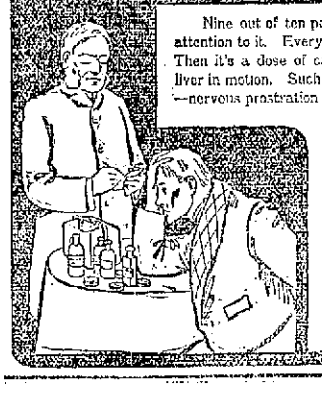
Adding Fuel to the Fire



Nine out of ten people are afflicted with constipation in one form or another, but pay little or no attention to it. Every week or ten days a violent headache warns them that something is wrong. Then it's a dose of calomel, pills or some other irritating, griping purgative to set the bowels and liver in motion. Such treatment is only adding fuel to the fire so to speak—undermines the system—nervous prostration and utter collapse is the end.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and Herb Laxative Compound

taken as directed at meal times counteracts hasty and over eating, aiding digestion, acting gently on the bowels in a manner pleasant to the user—headaches disappear, you are your old self again. Get a bottle today—take it regularly at meal times.

Put up in 50c and $1 bottles, but you had better get the $1 size, for it contains more proportionately. Our new book, "Told by a Doctor," will be mailed with a sample of Dr. Caldwell's Pepsin Syrup absolutely FREE.

DEATH'S RECORD OF THE DAY

MRS. SARAH E. GREER DIED MONDAY NIGHT.

Mrs. Sarah E. Greer, wife of ex-County Assessor Thomas Greer, died Monday evening at 11 o'clock at her home, in Pleasant township, at the age of 60 years.

Mrs. Greer was born in Randolph county, Ind., December 23, 1841, and was the daughter of the late Chester Shives, of Pleasant township. Her mother died when Mrs. Greer was 6 years old and two years later her father moved to Pleasant township, where he has since resided.

She was married to Thomas Greer in 1859, and her husband and eight children, four sons and four daughters, survive her. The children are John, Chester and Thomas Greer, Mrs. Sarah J. Wellbaum, Cora and Clara Greer, of this county, and William Greer and Mrs. Ella E. Rhoades, of Pueblo, Col.

The funeral will take place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the house and services will be conducted at Prairie Grove chapel later. The interment will be in the adjoining cemetery.

AKER.

Mrs. Charles Aker of 65 Howell street, died Monday afternoon after an extended illness at the age of 36 years.

The funeral will take place from the residence at 9 o'clock Wednesday and from Jefferson chapel, in Whitley county, at 1 o'clock. Rev. J. N. Field will conduct the funeral services at the residence.

POND.

Georgia Maria Pond, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Pond, died Monday evening.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Scharf.—The funeral of Charles Scharf will be held Wednesday morning at 9:30 from the residence of his mother, Mrs. Regina Ehinger, of Edsall avenue. Interment will be in the Catholic cemetery.

Wadge.—Funeral services of William Wadge will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from his late residence, 143 Montgomery street, Rev. A. W. Seabrease officiating.

Baker.—The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Baker will be held Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock from the residence, No. 36 Wabash avenue, conducted by Rev. M. C. Cooper. Interment at Huntertown.

Parry.—The funeral of Joseph W. Parry will be held Wednesday morning at 10:30 from his late residence, 29 West Butler street, and at 11 o'clock from Simpson M. E. church, Rev. J. A. Patterson, officiating. The burial will occur at Richmond.

WILL INITIATE CANDIDATES.

Forty-five candidates are on the list for admission to membership to the Knights of Columbus, and the knights are planning to have a big initiation on Thanksgiving day. It is thought that there will be about sixty candidates by that time and the initiation of so large a class will be made the occasion of a big celebration. Knights from several of the larger neighboring cities will be present to the number of several hundred and they will be regaled with a banquet. Knights of Columbus hall is being handsomely decorated throughout and some new furniture and hangings are being put in.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The board of works met regularly yesterday afternoon and quite unexpectedly were confronted by Messrs. D. N. Foster and C. H. Worden, who presented a petition with twenty-five signatures asking that Fairfield avenue be paved from Brackenridge street to Organ avenue. The gentlemen stated, however, that before the street was paved they wanted the interurban question settled and wanted the board to grant the Fort Wayne Traction company a franchise to build a double track the entire length of Fairfield avenue. It was also suggested that the easiest way to settle the interurban question would be by compelling the outsiders to accept the terms offered by Mr. Scott. Mr. Worden said he thought if the matter was turned over to him he could make terms with the Fort Wayne Traction company and assured the board that Mr. Scott is not a hard man to deal with. Mr. Foster then suggested that if interurban companies would cross over to Lafayette street on the south side and come down Lafayette street to Holman then east to Clinton and north on Clinton to the traction company's lie the whole matter would be settled. The board was not exactly stunned, but it was much surprised. When Chairman Eggemann regained his composure sufficiently to talk he remarked that there were other things besides traction company franchises to be considered before Fairfield avenue can be paved. In the first place the council has cut down the appropriation for next year to $10,000, which is not sufficient to make the street improvements already promised and agreed upon and keep up the repairs; until a change in the appropriation is made, it is only a waste of time to talk about Fairfield avenue. The board, however, thanked the gentlemen for their kindly proffers to take the question out of their hands, but said the matter must rest where it is for the present.

The bonds of Charles Schreck and C. K. Fairfield to lay sidewalks under private contract were approved and a notice from Superintendent McKim, saying he would meet the board next week to talk about tunneling Nelson street under the tracks, was received.

THE STATE'S STAR WITNESS CALLED.

come up toward the house; I was then at clothesline. He stepped into the cow barn; remained there just a second, and came to the house. I entered the house after him—right after—entering at the woodshed door.

DUNN WAS PALE.

He was pale and I asked him what was the matter; he said he came pretty near getting a sunstroke. He then ate his dinner; didn't eat much. When he got through eating he entered sitting room; later went out to barn. Mrs. Dunn was in sitting room as he came in to eat his dinner. In sitting room he sat on lounge, with head bent upon his hands, elbows resting on his knees.

We had supper a little after 6; Mr. and Mrs. Dunn were there; Delph Reed was not; he got home about 9 o'clock. He had supper soon after returning.

I went to bed that night at 3 o'clock in the morning; had slept on lounge until that time. Reed went to bed upstairs when he came home. Dunn did not go to bed until after I did.

I had been at Cothrell's in evening; it was after 11 when I returned; Mr. Dunn and Mrs. Dunn were there—both in sitting room. Saw Dunn at Cothrell's shortly before we came from Cothrell's. While I lay on lounge near morning Dunn asked me if I were not going to bed. Dunn was fully dressed. I went to bed upstairs. We got up somewhat late; Dunn and his wife and Delph Reed were there.

People were searching for Alice on night of July 2 and up to 4th of July. Talked with Dunn morning of July 4 on north steps by woodshed door; no other persons there.

WHAT DUNN REMARKED.

He was talking about Alice; told me she wasn't more than fifty miles away from home; that she was dead; that Mrs. Cothrell had licked her and wouldn't get a chance to lick her again.

DUNN WANTED HER TO LEAVE.

He wanted me to go to Toledo; but to tell people I was going to Absit; said he would pay my way and give me clothes; said he would fix me out all right.

I was not willing to go; he said he wanted me to go to John Ervin at Toledo; I knew him at Wallen. He was a young man.

Speaking of Alice he said he'd tell me something if I wouldn't tell Dell. I wouldn't agree to it. Dunn said Delph would squeal on him.

Friday Mrs. Dunn said she thought Alice was in the cistern. Dunn told her he'd knock her down if she didn't shut up. Recollect this was Friday.

Dunn said Mrs. Cothrell had wished Alice dead, and she's got her wish.

In the afternoon he told me the officers were there and would want to see me.

Dunn said he'd like to turn Delph off; he wanted me to go with Ervin, and not with Delph.

On Wednesday, talked with Dunn at woodshed; he was sitting with head on hands; elbows on knees; spitting on floor. Dunn said he didn't believe in those stories people were telling. He said they'd be looking in the cistern next. I said, "Let 'em look."

Was a witness before coroner's inquest.

There was a vigorous objection by Mr. Colerick when Judge Hench questioned witness regarding her testimony at the coroner's inquest on the ground that evidence at the inquest had not been offered, and cited legal grounds for his position. The point was argued with much vehemence, Judge Hench, Mr. Colerick and Mr. Emrick participating in the discussion. Under Judge O'Rourke's ruling witness was allowed to answer and defense filed an objection.

DUNN CAUTIONED HER.

Witness said one of her answers at the coroner's inquest regarding screams had been given because "Dunn said I should be careful what I said in there; he said it just a few minutes before I went in." This was at the court house. I was standing by the stove when cistern was searched at Dunn's on Sunday afternoon. Table was standing beside the cistern. Noonan, Ballou, Dunn and I were there. I was washing dishes when they came in. Part of the table extended over the trap door; they had to move it out of the way. I was washing dishes on the table. Saw them take Alice Cothrell's dead body out of the cistern. I do not know how Alice got into that cistern.

DID NOT PUT GIRL IN CISTERN.

Replying to questions, witness said she did not put her there; did not assist in placing her there, and did not know her body was there until it was taken out.

That night Dunn closed all the shutters and put a paper up to the glass in the front door. He said there might be curious eyes looking through there. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, Delph Reed and I remained in that house all night.

Witness detailed indecent remarks of Dunn in calling her on morning of July 1.

Came to city Monday morning about 9 o'clock; Dunns were with me; came to court house.

WILL SOON BE A MOTHER.

Witness stated that she is in a delicate condition and expects to become a mother about the last of November.

The witness was asked if she had improper sexual relations with Dunn. In this the defense objected and a long discussion ensued.

The court took a recess and the jurors retired for a few moments' rest while Judge O'Rourke considered the propriety of admitting certain evidence.

When court was again in order Mr. Colerick announced a withdrawal of his objection and witness said defendant had held improper relations with her twice during her stay at Wallen—the first along the last of April and again in June.

Witness said that in June, after she found herself pregnant, Dunn spoke to her about having an operation, and made the attempt to perform it. He used a wire and a pencil. I was upstairs in Dunn's house—in Delph Reed's room. It was in the daytime. Only we two were in house; Mrs. Dunn was in the garden behind the barn. It was in the afternoon, about 3 o'clock. Dunn used the wire and the pencil. I was lying on the bed.

MR. RYAN'S TESTIMONY.

Continuing his examination Monday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Ryan said he talked with Dunn again, between Dunn's and Main's houses. As I approached Dunn said he would take Young around and show him where Alice was last seen; that Alice was a little, mean-dispositioned thing and would steal things; that Marie had said Alice came into the house, went out through the yard, and was last seen at the end of the alley.

Then Young left us, said witness, and went towards the barn, and Dunn and I followed, entering north door of barn. Dunn said:

"She won't come back; she's mean and tricky; her mother is always having trouble with her; that morning she broke a tumbler and Edna slapped her. Last week she was over in the mill playing with the boys. I was upstairs and hallowed at her to leave. She did not go, and then her mother came and called. She ran around a pile of lumber, and did not go home."

Witness said he talked with Dunn at court house about noon on day of coroner's inquest. Colonel Stites was present. Dunn said Edna came to his house Tuesday about 2 o'clock and asked for Alice; he told her she was not there, but that he would look for her. After eating dinner Dunn said he started to look, but was called by a neighbor to help unload hay; that after that he had looked so close that if there had been a rat there he would have found it; that he thought she was sunstruck.

Mr. Ryan was not cross-examined.

Andrew J. Moynihan sworn; am editor of the Journal-Gazette; was at Wallen on week following discovery of Alice Cothrell's body in the cistern. Witness described the coverings of cistern. When Prosecutor Emrick asked witness to describe water defense objected, but was overruled, witness said water looked dark and polluted.

SHERIFF A WITNESS.

Sheriff Stout was the next witness called. Am sheriff of Allen county; have been in that office since November 17. Am acquainted in neighborhood of Wallen. Was deputy sheriff nearly eight years. Have known Charles Dunn six or eight years.

Went to Wallen Sunday afternoon, July 7; Dr. W. W. Barnett was with me; arrived there about 4 or 5 o'clock. We went to Dunn's yard, where body of Alice Cothrell lay. Saw Dunn moving around there. Body was taken to her father's residence, about 250 feet away. I accompanied them. Dr. Barnett examined the neck of the little girl, and then went to lower extremities; examined the private parts of the body. Witness described the examination by Dr. Barnett; girl's drawers were open at left side; the fastening was a hairpin. There was a button on right side and in front, but garment was not buttoned to front button; it was unloosed from left side and in front. Garment was hanging down where loosened; it was stained. Witness told of seeing unnatural conditions of the private parts. This was before Dr. Greenwell came; it was still light.

Later witness held lamp while Dr. Greenwell and Dr. Barnett were making their examination of the child's body. Was also present at second post mortem by Drs. Greenawalt and Rosenthal.

When I first saw the body the tongue was protruding through the teeth about three-quarters of an inch, possibly a little more; saw tongue also at second post mortem; doctors had removed it; tongue was bitten underneath; think there were four marks.

Distance from horse barn to the residence is about 270 feet; I stepped it a short time ago. No houses on the route and no houses adjacent to the horse barn. Looked into cistern. Witness described the two coverings to cistern and the space intervening. Did not see any water dipped from the cistern.

On cross-examination, Mr. Stout said cistern was apparently the one that was there before kitchen was built. There is a small shed on Main's lot; back of Dunn's house is a small barn on the alley. Witness also detailed at some length the surroundings of the adjacent premises, including the location of the sawmill.

Recalled by the state, Mr. Stout said he saw an old pump stock sticking out of a cistern in the mill.

William E. Dunfee was the next witness; live at Wallen, formerly lived at Ashley, in Steuben county. Know Charles Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Cothrell. July 2 witness said he was helping Mr. Jetmore make rails. Heard that Alice Cothrell was missing July 2 about 9 o'clock in the evening; my wife told me while I was in bed.

Arose next morning about 4:30 and during the forenoon searched through Wallen for the child. Searched the mill cistern; probed around with a rake; found nothing. My house is about three squares from the sawmill.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Lower cables and light trade brought a quiet opening for December wheat today, unchanged to ½c lower, at 71⅛c to 71c. There was little in the situation to influence the market one way or the other. Local offerings were light and there was a little selling on the part of commission houses. Argentine crop news still indicated heavy losses in that country, but did nothing more than bring a temporary rise of a shade early in the morning. Conditions in the southwest have changed for the better and chances for the new crop are good. The northwest movement seems also to have started in earnest. Local receipts were 240 cars, 2 of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 869 cars, making a total for the three points of 1,109 cars, against 962 last week and 767 a year ago.

Corn cables were a little higher, but only served to keep December about steady at the opening, unchanged to a shade lower, at 56⅞c to 56¾@56⅞c. The early trade was light and all local. A little later in the session, however, there developed some professional demand, and offerings not being liberal, shorts went to cover, advancing December to 57⅛c. Receipts were 217 cars.

Oats opened quiet, December a shade higher at 36½c. The same independent firmness of tone that has characterized this pit for the last week was shown early. Offerings were scarce and on a moderate outside demand December advanced to 36⅝c. Receipts were 219 cars.

Provisions opened heavy on a sagging hog market. There were fairly free offerings of lard, but otherwise the market was very dull. January pork opened 2½c to 7½c lower at $14.85@14.90; January lard 10c down at $8.05 and sold between that price and $8.02½, and January ribs 7½c lower at $7.65, and advanced 2½c.

MEYER CASE IS UP.

E. S. Barnard, of the Columbus Base Ball association; C. W. Halderman, representing the Marion association, and I. Mautner, of the Fort Wayne club, appeared in Taucey's court this afternoon to prosecute the charges filed against William Meyer for embezzling or misappropriating funds belonging to their several associations. Mr. Barnard, who is the acting president of the Western Base Ball association, maintained an aggressive position and was represented by State Attorney Emrick and the conards, while Mr. Meyer was represented by M. D. Doughman and Harry C. Hanna. As The Sentinel went to press there was no prospect of a settlement and the probabilities are that the defendant will waive a preliminary hearing and give bond to appear in the circuit court to answer the charges.

Germany imported more than $4,000,000 worth of goods from Portugal last year, chiefly cork, wine, fruit, sardines and wax.

A RUMOR CURRENT

SYNDICATE REPORTED BUYER

DEFINITE INFORMATION IS HARD TO FIND.

M'KINLEY SYNDICATE MANAGER MAKES DENIAL.

A gentleman close to the city administration and supposed to be in intimate communication with the Fort Wayne Traction company, said to The Sentinel this morning that he had good reason to believe that the Fort Wayne Traction company had practically changed hands. The gentleman stated that his information was of such a character that he could scarcely disregard it, but at the same time said he was not at liberty to divulge its source and could not permit his name to be used in discussing the matter.

The rumor, which has gained considerable circulation in inside circles, is to the effect that the deal was consummated last Friday and that when the transfer is made the new owners will be a syndicate that is endeavoring to control the traction business urban and interurban, in all of northern Indiana. In addition to this statement it was stated that the said syndicate is not the Moore-Everett syndicate of Cleveland, but when asked whether the visit of the officials of the Dietrich gas company to Fort Wayne last week had any significance, the denial was firm, but not quite so vehement.

One story is to the effect that Manager Nelson, of the Southwestern company, engineered the deal, but this statement Attorney Doughman emphatically denies. He says that he will go on record as saying that his company has nothing whatever to do with the deal, although he had heard within the last twenty-four hours that such a deal had been consummated. He said his company is independent of the Fort Wayne Traction company and at the meeting of the committee of the whole tonight will present its claims again for an entrance on Harrison street. The Fort Wayne Traction company, he says, will meet it with a better proposition than it has ever before offered.

Members of the board of works said that they had heard something of a sale or proposed sale, but knew nothing of it. Bob Hanna, representing a local syndicate, standing ready to build a terminal system for the use of all interurban companies, said that he had heard of it, but could not locate it. He thought the deal had been made at Kansas City last Friday, but did not know and was not in a position to say anything. City Attorney Shambaugh said he had heard of it, but was in necessary of any authentic information.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

TO DRIVE TWO WELLS.

Yesterday afternoon the water works trustees opened bids for drilling two new wells at or close to station No. 2. The wells are to be approximately 300 feet deep and will extend into rock 210 feet. The bids were as follows:

Thompson, Bacon & Bougher, of Fort Wayne—$720 per well.

E. B. Curtis & Co., of Hartford City—$808 per well.

Harmon Water Supply company, of Tiffin, O.—$825 per well.

The contract was awarded to Thompson, Bacon & Bougher, as in addition to being the lowest bidder, agreed to complete the work in shorter time than either of the others.

The council as a committee of the whole will meet this evening at the city hall to take up the question of interurban railroad entrances again. While the committee is called more particularly to discuss the Harrison street franchise asked for by the Southwestern Traction company, it is more than likely that the discussion will be led into other channels unless Chairman Scheid holds the committee down to the strict subject matter. Mayor Berghoff favors committee of the whole meetings to be open to the public, but whether Chairman Scheid will order an executive session or not can not now be foretold.

The 20th Century Dancing Club invites all its friends to attend its second hop, to be given Wednesday evening, Oct. 30th, at the Mulqueen Academy. The Annex Orchestra will furnish music. 29t2

No fewer than 587,884 prisoners were in the prisons of British India in 1899-1900, an increase of 92,064 over the number for 1891. Of this huge total only 24,555 were females, which is a much smaller proportion than in western countries.

Fire! Fire!!

When that cry sounds how people rush to help and sympathize! And when some fireman rescues a woman from the flames, the streets echo with applauding shouts.

And yet if that woman had perished in the flames it is possible that she would have suffered less than she suffers almost daily from the inflammation which disease has lighted in the delicate womanly organism.

That fire of inflammation can be put out. The gnawing ulcer can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only establishes womanly regularity and dries enfeebling drains, but it heals inflammation and ulcerations and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I suffered for four years with what four physicians pronounced ulceration and prolapsus of the uterus," writes Mrs. Ada Brooks, of Kirbyville, Taney Co., Missouri. "Also inflammation of bladder and urethra. My case was chronic and complicated. Had several good physicians, but kept getting worse. Had been confined to my bed five months when I wrote to you. I received your reply very soon and then discussed my physician and began taking Dr. Pierce's medicines. I took eight bottles of his 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and began to get better at once. In two months I could sit up in a chair, and kept getting better. In four months could do all my house work, including washing and sewing."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

RAMSEY COMING

ARRIVES HERE ON SPECIAL TRAIN THIS EVENING.

WILL INSPECT THE NEW ROAD

GEN. SUPT. MAGEE POSTPONES HIS VISIT.

ENGINE LOSES DRIVE WHEEL

FINDLAY FREIGHT BARELY ESCAPES A WRECK.

President Joseph Ramsey, of the Wabash and the Wheeling and Lake Erie roads, will arrive in the city about 5 o'clock this evening and will at once proceed to New Haven to inspect the line now under construction at that point. It is possible that Mr. Ramsey will spend the night here. General Supt. H. L. Magee was expected today, also, but he has postponed his visit for some reason not known here. Mr. Ramsey's special train left Peru at 3:30 o'clock and is traveling slowly in order that the president may the better inspect the property.

TAKES BETTER JOB.

John C. Williams has resigned as fireman on the Nickel Plate to take charge of the engine room of the Kentucky Veneer company, of Louisville, at a considerable advance in salary over that afforded by the Nickel Plate position. Mr. Williams' father is the superintendent of the veneer works. W. H. Bells, whose resignation as fireman on the Nickel Plate was mentioned yesterday, has secured a similar position on the Wabash.

A DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS.

George W. Cowles, a director of the Great Eastern railway, of England, who is in this country, has the following to say in regard to the leading railroads of England: "British railroad companies are not in as healthy condition just now as they were five years ago. Dividends have decreased somewhat. This is due chiefly to the rise in price of coal and materials. Other causes are the increase in wages, coupled with shorter hours, and the large increase that is year by year taking place in rates and taxes; the great outlay that is constantly going on to meet the additional demands of the government; the increasing opposition of electric roads; the unnecessary train mileage, and, above all, the competition. All these causes have operated to reduce profits. Notwithstanding these drawbacks, however, the leading railroads are still operated at a substantial profit. The outcome of unnecessary competition will, in my opinion, be of the greatest benefit to the large railroad companies, for it means that the smaller enterprises will be finally driven out of the field. The United Kingdom is too small a country for keen competition in the railroad business to become profitable. At present the competition is fatuous, the capital expenditure without warrant and the mileage far in excess of needs. During the last twelves years working expenses have gone up from 52 to 60 per cent., which is bound to sooner or later result in crushing out the small railroads that have sprung up like mushrooms within the last six years. When this has been accomplished the leading railroad companies will get around again to their former financially healthy condition. This result is inevitable."

Owing to the immense demand for the products of the room presided over by Councilman J. J. Bauer, at the electric works, that gentleman has been compelled to put on a night gang. There are twenty men in the night force and indications are favorable to an increase in number. Mr. Bauer now has the largest number of men ever employed in that department, and his room has more men to the floor space than any establishment in the city. It is a veritable bee-hive.

JAMES GORDON RESIGNS.

After his return from Baltimore yesterday James S. Gordon tendered his resignation as clerk in the motive power offices of the Pennsylvania and immediately went to Chicago, where he this morning assumed a responsible position with the Illinois Car and Equipment company. It is understood that his duties with his new employer will be similar to those he performed for G. L. Potter when that gentleman was general motive power superintendent of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg. Mr. Gordon is an expert stenographer and will succeed in that line anywhere.

HOLE IN THE LUNGS

There are thousands of men and women, as well as ever, with holes in their lungs: consumption stopped.

Consumption stopped is consumption cured. What does it?

Some change in the way of life and Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

With the emulsion, give some attention to circumstances: change from a dark damp close room to a sunny dry airy one; from city to country; from hard to an easy life; indoors to out.

A hole in the lungs once healed is no worse than a too-tight waist or waistcoat.

Take the emulsion, and give it a chance to heal the wound.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

BROKE AN AXLE.

Engine 3, with Engineer George at the throttle, which was pulling train No. 31, the local freight, on the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western, lost a drive wheel at 1:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The accident happened at Davis, as the train was pulling out of a siding onto the main track, and no damage other than to the engine occurred. Had the axle broken while the engine was moving rapidly the result might have been disastrous to life and property. Conductor Hoppus had charge of the train.

FELL IN GETTING ON TRAIN.

Harry M. Brokaw, an employe at the Pittsburg cabinet shop, was the victim of an accident this morning for which he alone was to blame. He attempted to get on the train which brings the dispatchers down from the east yards, when he missed his hold of the hand rail and was pitched headlong on the hard ground. He sustained some very painful wounds about the head and face, and will be unable to work for a day or two.

TOOK ON SOME NEW EMPLOYES.

Several new names appear on the Pennsylvania shop's pay rolls today. George F. Miller, nee "Doggie" Miller, the ball player, whose acceptance as an employe at the 'smith shop was mentioned some days ago, commenced work in Owen Barry's gang at one of the big steam hammers; Walter Hamilton, a graduate of the High school last spring, and a son of Trustee Allen Hamilton, took a position with Storekeeper Enoch Cox, and Ed Henkenius and Frank B. Pranger took positions under Foreman P. J. Scheid in the round house.

IS NOW A ROUTE AGENT.

Oliver Hebert, jr., whose resignation as night clerk at the Pittsburg round house was mentioned last week by the Sentinel, has taken a position as route agent with the Adams Express company and has been assigned to runs 18 and 15, between this city and Crestline. He will make his first trip over the route today.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Machinist Fred Voelke has resigned a position at the Bass works to accept one elsewhere.

George T. Ladd is in Cleveland today in the interest of the Bass Foundry and Machine company.

Carpenters are at work renewing the ties and walk on the Nickel Plate bridge over St. Marys river.

Machinist Charles Seabold, who was married a week ago, reported for duty at the Wabash shops this morning.

Mrs. Edwards, wife of the Pennsylvania car builder, is at Nevada, O., where a relative is lying very sick.

Emil Meyer and Fay Ramsey resigned positions with Foreman J. J. Bauer, at the electric works, this morning.

William Cunniff, president of the Nickel Plate, passed through the city on train 1 yesterday en route to Chicago.

Mrs. Anna Taylor and her barrel passed through the city on Nickel Plate train No. 2 yesterday, en route for Niagara, with the intention of making another trip over the Falls if she receives the proper encouragement in the way of price.

W. D. Carpenter has been transferred from the engine paint room to the passenger department of the Pittsburg shops.

Pittsburg Firemen F. E. Crawford, C. F. Holunholz and A. R. Downing are off duty by permission. Mr. Crawford's wife is sick.

F. I. Brown went to Chicago this morning to look after some business connected with the lumber department of the Pennsylvania.

Engineer Ed Wolf, of the Nickel Plate, has gone to Dayton, Ohio, to attend the funeral of his brother, who died at that place last Sunday.

Engineer Ed Wolf, of the Nickel Plate, has gone to Dayton, Ohio, to attend the funeral of his brother, who died at that place last Sunday.

Thomas Telley resigned a position at the Wabash boiler shops that he has held for three or four months. He will take a better position elsewhere.

Chief Clerk F. D. Reed, of the motive power department of the Pennsylvania, today moved into his handsome new home on Brackenridge street.

Wesley Wells is looking after private business. Brakeman Berdelman reported for work after a brief rest. They are Nickel Plate employes.

Thomas Patton, roundhouse machinist at the Pittsburg, who has been off duty on account of the death of his brother-in law, reported this morning.

E. C. Gordon, fuel clerk at the Pittsburg motive power offices, has returned to his desk duties, after a pleasant visit at Baltimore, Washington and New York.

Nickel Plate Conductor R. A. Meyers, of Bellevue, who was off duty on account of the death of his brother, J. R. Meyers, came here this morning to report for duty on the road.

Senator Marcus Hanna is speaking today in the vicinity of Bucyrus. He travels in a special car and the Pennsylvania handled it between Bucyrus and Mansfield this afternoon.

Superintendent Hill, of the interlocking and signal department of the Pittsburg, made a trip over the western end of the division today to see that everything was in good shape.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jungles will leave today for Dubuque, Ia., to visit his aged parents. They expect to be absent from the city about ten days. Mr. Jungles is a Pennsylvania engineer.

Clark Scheid received injuires to his left hand yesterday and will be off duty a few days as a result of the accident. Mr. Scheid is employed in the air brake department of the Pittsburg shops.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "President Ramsey, of the Wabash, received painful injuries on Saturday by falling from a street car on his way down town. He expects, however, to be at his office today."

Contractor William Kelley this morning commenced the erection of a dwelling house on Mechanic street, and Contractor Fred Tienman commenced a house for Mrs. Rose on West Jefferson street, near the park.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fleming, of Columbus, O., returned to their home today after a pleasant visit with Patrolman C. J. Rulo, of the Pennsylvania police force, and his wife. Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. Rulo are sisters.

Machinists John Casey and Robert Taylor have completed the task of repairing and enlarging the steam plant of the Wabash Paper company and last night returned home. This morning they resumed their duties in the Bass shops.

William Hockaday, an experienced railroad man, was given employment on the Nickel Plate today. There appears to be no lack of applications for work of that kind by inexperienced men, but those who know something about the work are more difficult to find, and when they appear are quickly employed if they are sober and worthy fellows.

Assistant Master Car Builder Frank Swethugen and Lieutenant S. W. Harrod, of the Pittsburg, went to Van Wert this morning to testify in the case of a man accused of stealing brasses from the Pennsylvania cars at that place.

An employe of the Fort Wayne Iron works was struck on the head this morning by a bar of iron. A gash was cut in his forehead, which bled profusely. The wound was dressed at Meyer Bros.' drug store, after which the man returned to his work.

William Brennan, the well known machinist at the Electric works, is indignant over the use of his name by a "drunk" up before Judge Louthit yesterday morning. Mr. Brennan is decidedly of the opinion that offenders of this class should not be allowed to give a name other than their own when arrested.

The new gasoline engine was placed in position at the pumping station of the Nickel Plate, on the west bank of the St. Marys river, yesterday and will be ready for operation tomorrow. While the work of making the change at the pumping station was in progress the water supply was drawn from the city mains.

According to the absentee list at the Pittsburg shops, E. Simonton, R. W. Shaw, Martin N. Crawford, Louis Gronau, H. C. Strangman and E. J. Hunter are sick; W. H. Long is kept at home by the sickness of his wife; J. G. Roper is attending the funeral of a relative, and J. C. Berndhardt, J. J. Baches and G. Buhr are looking after private matters.

J. D. Quinn, a brakeman who has been visiting in the city for a few days, will leave this week for Grand Rapids to assume a position on the Pere Marquette road. Mr. Quinn was employed in that capacity on the Pittsburg road some months ago, and since his service there he has been working on the Baltimore and Ohio, with headquarters at Garrett, Ind.

Engines 250 and 821, which figured in the collision on the Wabash road, near Lafayette, last Saturday, arrived at the shops in this city this morning for repairs. No. 250 is a passenger engine and 821 is one of the new Richmond compound freight engines just put into service. The latter did not suffer much, but the former, which is lighter, was pretty badly used up. Her cab was broken, pilot knocked off and front end of frames bent badly and the tank was thrown completely off its trucks.

CURES RHEUMATISM AND CATARRH AFTER ALL ELSE FAILS—COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

To cure the most desperate rheumatism or catarrh take Botonic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) the wonder of the age. Cures when all else fails. It kills the poison in the blood and gives a pure, healthy blood supply, stopping all gnawing, shooting aches and pains in the bones, joints, back, and reduces all swellings. Hawking, spitting, dropping in the throat, offensive breath and catarrh, irritations of the mucous membranes quickly disappear, thus making a perfect, permanent cure of the worst rheumatism or deep-seated catarrh. B. B. B. especially advised for old, obstinate cases. Druggists, $1. Trial treatment free and prepaid by writing Dr. Gillam, 213 Mitchell St., Atlanta, Ga. NERVOUS STRAIN

Reacts Upon the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels.

Nearly everyone of us is much of the time under tremendous nervous strain. This means a rising up of brain and nerve tissues, the waste from which must be carried off through the blood and eliminated through the liver, kidneys and bowels. At times the conditions under which we live make it impossible for nature to do this rapidly and thoroughly enough without help. It is just this help which Alma-Bromo Salt gives. It acts on the liver, kidneys and bowels in a general way, removing thoroughly all impurities and gives a tone to the whole system which cannot be had from drugs and medicines.

If you write to the Michigan Drug Co., Detroit, Mich., who are the general distributors of this natural product of the famous Alma-Bromo Spring at Alma, Mich., they will send you free, prepaid, enough of the Salt to give it a good trial, or you can obtain a full-size bottle from your druggist.

QUININE FOR COLDS.

Many people who use quinine for the cure of colds say that the effect of this drug is more disagreeable than the disease. Krause's Cold Cure is prepared in a convenient capsule form and will cure the most deeply seated cold in 24 hours without any interruption to business. They are pleasant to take and give you a clear, fresh sensation while operating. Price 25c. Sold by Dreier & Bro., corner Calhoun and Columbia streets.

M. Fouchter, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is off duty, doctoring a lame hand, which was burned several days ago. The wound did not cause him much trouble until yesterday, although it was received early last week.

HELLER'S TESTIMONY.

Albert Heller, living at 1114 Farnham St., Omaha, says: "I have tried most everything that is used as a preventive or cure for headache, but nothing did me so much good as Krause's Headache Capsules. Others who have used them say the same thing." Price 25c. Sold by Dreier & Bro., corner Calhoun and Columbia streets.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Forecast for Indiana: Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; continued warm; fresh southerly winds.

LOCAL LINES.

The Ladies' Progressive Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. E. G. Pierce, 245 East Lewis street, Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

The Christian Endeavor society of Plymouth Congregational church will give a hallowe'en social on Friday evening in the parlors of the church.

The Cheerful Aid society will be entertained at the home of Mrs. C W. Thiebolt, 70 Erie street, on Wednesday afternoon, instead of Friday afternoon.

M. J. Stock, architect, will go to Kendallville tomorrow to superintend the construction of an $8,000 residence for W. H. Gappinger, of that enterprising town. The house contains eleven rooms and is beautifully finished inside. Mr. Stock prepared the plans for the residence.

John Parnin was awarded the contract for rewiring and lighting the bath rooms and bowling alleys in Library hall at a meeting of the executive board last evening. The opening of the alleys has been delayed several weeks, but it is thought they will be ready for games this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kelsey opened their home in a charming manner last evening to the members of Mr. Kelsey's Sunday school class and a few of their friends. A guessing contest, which afforded much fun, resulted in Miss Florence Jones carrying off the first prize and Miss Nellie Tinkham, the consolation, after which luncheon was served.

The 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Masse, of 11 Koch street, was painfully injured while visiting in the country on Sunday. The child was playfully shoved by a playmate and fell against a chair, inflicting a bad gash in her lip and in the roof of her mouth, and several of the child's teeth were loosened. Dr. Stults put several stitches in the cuts.

The new protecting wall being put into the river along the water side of the Centlivre brewery will be completed this week if nothing unforseen occurs. The wall is 210 feet long, is five and one-half feet wide at the bottom and two and a half feet wide at the top, and is seventeen feet high. It is founded five feet below the river bottom and is built entirely of concrete, making it as firm as though it was a piece of solid stone of the dimensions named. Thirty men have been continuously employed on the work by Contractor Becker, who started on the job about fifteen days ago. In its construction over 600 barrels of cement have been used and altogether is is one of the most remarkable pieces of masonry ever attempted in northern Indiana. Its cost will run into many thousands of dollars.

WINTER SERIES AT PLYMOUTH CHURCH.

The program of lectures at Plymouth Congregational church this fall has been completed and is given below. With the exception of the opening attraction, the lectures are by Fort Wayne gentlemen eminently fitted to discuss the subjects upon which they are to speak.

The lecture course opens November 8 and the program follows:

November 8—Rev. J. W. Bailey, D. D., of Topeka, Kan., on "Our Country's Place and Mission as Revealed in Prophesy."

November 22—Alexander Johnson, superintendent of the Indiana School for Feeble Minded Youth, on "State Benevolences."

December 13—Dr. Miles F. Porter, on "The Progress and Results of Modern Surgery."

February 7—Postmaster William D. Page, on "The Evolution of Uncle Sam's Postal Service."

March 7—Judge Robert S. Taylor, on "Law, the Noblest Work of Man."

Two musical selections by the best local artists will precede each lecture. Following are on the course:

Soloists—Mrs. William Miles, Mrs. Sam Moffat, Miss Elsie Johnson, Miss Nellie Lawson, Miss A. Lillian Schrader, Miss Gill, Oliver A. Phelps.

Quartets—The Haydn quartet, the Apollo quartet.

Violinists—Miss Ethel Mossman, Anton Spurl, H. G. Patton.

IN JUSTICES' COURTS.

"The Greely street chicken fight," which has been dodging around the justices' courts for nearly two weeks, was yesterday postponed indefinitely by Justice Bullermann.

This afternoon Justice Bullermann is presiding at an inquest of lunacy, at which the sanity of three persons will be determined. The patients are John Harrold, Charles Richarden and George Lenhard, all inmates of the infirmary at the county farm. They have not been committed there as insane patients and under the circumstances the superintendent has no legal right to place them under restraint, although they really require it. The attending physician in the commission is Dr. Enslen and the examining physicians will be Drs. MacBeth and Culp.

Justice Tancey last evening performed the marriage ceremony which united Nathaniel E. M. Kidd and Dora D. Hilyard, both residents of this city. The ceremony was performed promptly at 5 o'clock and what most persons at that time mistook for a military salute was simply the echo of the justice kissing the bride.

No Cause for Great Alarm.

While by the use of large and powerful telescopes the scientists are pointing out to us bright and flaming spots on the sun, they have in no way proved that this phenomenon has anything to do with the final dissolution of the world, as many nervous people are trying to suppose. But science has demonstrated that pale, congested spots on the liver are cause for grave and very serious thought. Are you sleepy after meals, with dull headache, pains in the side, nervous, moody and depressed? These are symptoms of a disordered liver, and a stoppage of the gall bladder, causing a constipated condition of the bowels. If you have any of the above symptoms try Peptorene, the Health Tablet. This pure, simple and safe remedy is working wonders in the cure of all kinds of liver troubles. Peptorene is manufactured by the Battle Creek Health Tablet Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich. 25c per box. Write for free trial treatment.

Sold by Meyer Bros.'s & Co., Pellens & Poister, A. C. Gocke and Wm. L. Waltemath.

The marriage of Miss Martha Raquet and Victor H. Kemp, mentioned in The Sentinel last evening, will be solemnized at St. Paul's church on Barr street Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, instead of at the bride's residence. Rev. Jacob Miller will officiate.

THEY CONTROL THE SALE AND SAY ITS DOING WONDERS.

This medicine is represented by the best class of pharmacists in the United States—only one in each city and town. That's because the proprietors know its great value and want people to get it when they ask for it. And they want a good druggist who knows his business to investigate its great medicinal properties and be able to talk intelligently as to its strength-giving power.

A member of this firm is mighty enthusiastic on the subject. He says: "I'll guarantee it every time to clean out the blood and give strength." It's a great tonic, and say, for rheumatism, it can't be beat.

JUST A RELIC...

The old-time cumbersome stoves are relics of days gone by. The up-to-date thing is our STEWART OAK. If you don't know about this heating stove, we would ask you to come in and view our sample line and get acquainted with it.

Stewart Oak Stoves give perfect combustion, and there is positively no better Heating Stove made. We guarantee that. In styles, designs and finish they are unapproached. Warmth and cheer for the cold days can be provided by buying one of these Heaters. Just now our capacity is a stove every minute. You don't have to wait. We can fill orders the day they are received.
